Dear Mr. Mc Murray

I worked at the Elvah Strong millsite from May, 17, 1919 for about 3 weeks. Hogan Hanson was foreman. Bill Bysegger & George Ramsey worked there at the same time. They are all dead. The most of the dam was built before that but we used a team of horses & scraper & did some work on the dam. I worked there the spring of 1921. The dam was used then. April, 24, 1923 I went to work there for a few weeks. The fall of 1927 I worked there a few days. I was there at a picnic the fore part of June ^{June 2} 1940. The dam was being used all of these times. From then afterwards I knew nothing more. I never heard of any controversy over the dam at any time. From then on many people could verify what took place. Any other thing I can do to help will be glad to do.

Yours truly Irving Strong

To those interested:

I started working in my cousin's mill in about 1928-29. The pond, the dam, and the log-haul were all an accepted part of the operation. A temporary pond had even been used at the West Deep Creek site, and the new site at Middle Deep Creek was planned for a pond.

Sincerely, Russell G. Strong.
