RE: PERMIT NO. 95-08730 PROOF DUE NOTICE

Dear Permit Holder:

One of the conditions of approval of the above referenced water permit was that proof of the extent of your beneficial use must be submitted to this office on or before March 1, 1993. (See last page of your approved permit or your last approved extension request.) Enclosed is a form which when accompanied by the license examination fee or a complete field examination report prepared by a certified water right examiner may be used to submit the required proof.

If you have not fully completed your project, and you or a previous owner of this permit have not received a prior extension of time, you may request an extension of time if the delay is for reasonable cause as provided in Section 42-204, Idaho Code. If you have been prevented from proceeding by a governmental agency or by litigation which might bring title to the water in question, more than one extension of time can be granted. An extension of time request form is enclosed for your convenience.

Either an acceptable proof of beneficial use submittal or an acceptable request for an extension of time must be received by this department on or before the above described proof due date. If neither is received, the department will send you a lapse notice. Within sixty (60) days of the mailing of the lapse notice, the permit will no longer be of any force nor effect.

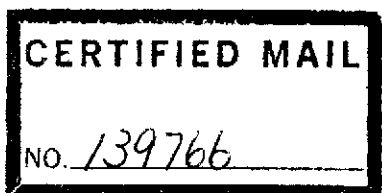

SINCERELY,

Karen L. Gustafson

Re: Water Right Permit NO. 95-08730

Dear Mr. Conner:

Per our telephone conversation this morning, I have enclosed a new proof of beneficial use form and instructions. I hope that this will clarify any questions you have concerning the filing of this form.

I also want to take a minute to clear up some misinformation that I gave you this morning. Any time you divert water from a surface source (lake, creek, stream, spring), you are required by Idaho state law to apply for a water right. If you drill a small domestic well, and divert 0.04 cfs or less, you are not required to file for a permit. Therefore, since you divert from Coeur d'Alene Lake, you are required to obtain a permit.

I also inquired about the Department of Lands, and have obtained some information that may be of assistance to you. The Department of Lands has an "easement" on the land around Coeur d'Alene Lake because it is a navigable lake. I'm not sure of the exact footage of this easement. They also own the land under the lake. Therefore, any time a water right application is filed, using Coeur d'Alene Lake as a source, the Department of Water Resources is required to notify the Department of Lands, which we have done. Because of this easement, any time a permit holder places diversion equipment in the lake, they need to file the encroachment papers with the Department of Lands. It is my understanding, that the Department of Lands does have the authority to remove your diversion equipment until you have complied with their requirements.

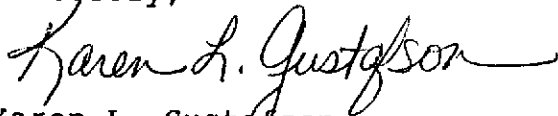

RECEIVED

MAY 24 1993

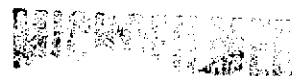

It is unfortunate that the previous property owner did not take the appropriate legal steps necessary to divert this water. However, in order for you to legally continue to divert the water, you will need to complete all of the requirements set forth by both the Department of Water Resources and Department of Lands.

I hope that I have been able to answer your questions. If you have any more questions or if I can be of any further assistance, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,
