Mrs. Charles Glock

Dear Mrs. Glock:

The bill you referred to in your letter dated April 27 failed to pass the Legislature, and the Idaho Water Law remains unchanged.

Currently, under the constitution of this state, a water right may be established by diversion and application to beneficial use only. This is done through the Department of Water Administration by making application for a permit to divert said waters.

Not knowing the name and/or location of the stream you referred to, we are unable to determine if there are any developed water rights below the point where it passes through your property. If this were the case, you would be guaranteed stream flow by their priority. This, of course, would not give you any right to the water, but would insure stream flow.

If we can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

April 27, 1972

Dear Mr. Alfred:

I wrote to you in September, 1970 with regard to establishing water rights on some property we had acquired near Sandpoint, Idaho.

The property has two streams running through it which are important to it for aesthetic and possibly recreational reasons.

The property is undeveloped now and will probably remain so for some years to come. Consequently, no "use" is being made of the water at this time. Lee would, however, like to protect the stream flow if at all possible..

Lee understood that a bill has been introduced in your legislature dealing with this problem. Is there now any way we can file for rights to protect a minimum stream flow on our land?

Very truly yours,
Margaret S. Clock
