TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Since 1925 to 1930, based on my recollection of traveling to and from my father's property on what is called the Dry Creek drainage, I have observed the use of water originating outside the property of Samuel Smith, deceased.

Both the Dry Creek water originating on the forest lands and the water originating in the private property to the north of Mr. Smith's property, was utilized for irrigation purposes. I realize the water of the Dry Creek was used by some other ranchers further down the stream, but I do know that Mr. Smith did divert part of the Dry Creek water to be used for irrigation on his property.

Again during the 30's, prior to my moving away to school, I was home and did travel through Mr. Smith's property to our ranch and observed the same, so my recollection has been a continuous use of said water since at least 1930.

I, Nathaniel R. Jones

deposes and says: To my personal knowledge, the only irrigation of the lands described in the above referenced claim was done before 1940 for approximately one-half acre of garden area. Since 1940, the area has been dry farmed and no water from Dry Creek has been used to irrigate any of the lands described in Claim 15-4026.

I own Decree 15-0002 which is the same source of water Smith Farms are claiming.

The point of diversion of Smith Farms is above my point of diversion and would interfere with my decreed right.

Dear Ms. Laws:

Claim to Water Right No. 15-4026

During our final review of the above mentioned claim to a water right, it was determined that the legal description for the place of use and point of diversion was incorrect. For your convenience, we have retyped an amended claim which requires your notarized signature. Before returning the amended claim, the legal descriptions should be checked to insure their accuracy and changes which you make should be initial'd.

Once you have reviewed the claim and signed it in the presence of a notary public, please return it to our office for further processing. Should you have any questions, feel free to contact our eastern regional office.

Respectfully submitted,
