Dear Sir:

On Friday I completed the water filings of Frank Ueda- and of Clements and Jackson & Tophill Farms--I came to work this morning and looked again at the calendar and it is only the 13th--I notarized these papers in good faith and the people involved all came in on Friday to sign these papers--it was absolutely an error on my part of picking up a daily reminder one week prior to when I was supposed to have completed the filings.

What can I do to correct the error of notarizing these a prior week than was called for? I have correct dates on the proofs--only I done the work one week in advance. I called the people and made sure they would come here on Friday and completed them as if it were Friday March the 17th.

I know it will be hard to believe such efficiency exists--but it is very truthful--I looked at the wrong week on the daily reminder and completed this Fridays work one week early.
