Dear Roger,

On November 4, 2004 I submitted a request for water rights for return flows to St. Charles Creek as part of two proposed fish screen projects. One of the landowners later decided not to participate, so I was only able to provide an access agreement for one of the proposed screen projects. The Fish and Game Department sent a check to the Department of Water Resources for $500 to pay the processing fees for the two permits.

On June 23, 2005 IDWR issued a water right for one of the return flow pipes and on July 15, 2005 IDWR returned my application for the project where we did not have a landowner access agreement.

IDFG would now like to screen a diversion on St. Charles Creek which is on Idaho Department of Lands property. IDL has agreed to let us to do the project as indicated by the attached letter from IDL. Enclosed is an application for a water right for this screen project. Please use the $250 remaining from last fall's application for this new application.

Sincerely,

Dick Scully
Regional Fishery Manager
