61 0357 eighty inches dating from January 7th. 1901.

VI.

That all of said Water hertofore awarded to the respective parties to this action shall be measured at the point or points of diversion from the channel of said stream, in a box or boxes, headgate or headgates, constructed for measuring water under a four-inch pressure, or its equivalent in second-feet,

VII.

That the plaintiff shall take and use his allotment of sixty inches out of his ditch on the west side of the creek until the water in the Creek becomes so low that there is not sufficient to supply any part of the allotment of Hiram Canfield, after which time he may change the use of said water to the ditch on the East side, if he so desires, and he may take^{hi} said water through his ditch on the East side at any time before, provided he leaves six inches of said allotment in the Creek for the purpose of making up his part of the seepage in the West ditch while it is being used by defendant Canfield.

JAN 21 1906

VIII.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that when the water, allowed to flow undisturbed in the channel of said King Hill Creek, will not reach the land of a prior user, then the person above him on creek, next in priority of right, shall have the right to use all of the water to the amount of his allotment.

IX.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that the defendant Charles Brady shall have the right to conduct his allotment of water through the ditch on the West side of said creek, owned by plaintiff and Hiram and Mary Canfield during each year when he shall have done and performed his proportion of the labor and expense of keeping said ditch in repair. Provided that said defendant Brady, shall in no manner interfere with the distribution of water through said ditch and the management and control of said ditch shall be in the plaintiff and said defendant, Canfield, and their successors in interest, subject only to rights under this decree; that said Charles Brady shall, at his own cost, but under the direction of plaintiff and said Canfield, or their successors, place a headgate and measuring box, suitably constructed for measuring water under a four inch pressure, or its equivalent in second feet in said ditch at a point where he takes his water therefrom and said box shall be provided with a suitable lock and key which shall be kept by said plaintiff and defendant Canfield, or their successors in interest, who shall distribute to said Charles Brady, for use on his said land the amount of water allotted to him, with his proportion of flood water conveyed in said ditch, free of cost to said Brady or his successors, less the amount, or proportion of water lost by evaporation or seepage.

X.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed, that none of the parties hereto, or their successors in interest, shall have the right to the use of the waters of said King Hill Creek, herein awarded, except for a beneficial purpose; that whenever the beneficial use ceases each party shall turn the waters of said stream back into the creek; that each and all of the parties to this action, their servants, employees, privies and successors in interest are hereby enjoined and restrained from any and all interference with or diversion or use of the waters of said King Hill Creek except as provided in this decree, whenever such diversion or use will in any manner interfere with the quantity of water awarded by this decree to any of the parties to this action or their successors in interest.

That the costs and disbursements of each party shall be born by each party,

Dated this 2 day of June 1904.
