Department of Water Resources

Good Morning Kay,

The subdivision was platted in 1981. At that time the developer drilled a domestic well for his use and then hooked 10 homes to it. He went into bankruptcy and the bank foreclosed on the subdivision. Mr Hunter purchased the subdivision from the bank and was slapped by D.E.Q with orders to upgrade the system to the approved plat. He has also been hauled into court by the homeowners but everyone deferred to D.E.Q. They seem to have the hammer.

Because everyone in the valley is aware of the subdivision and it has been in place since 1981 I do not think we need to re-advertise the application. There is a real need to get the new wells drilled and get the homeowners onto an approved well and system.

I agree that the legals you plotted are correct. Issue the permit in Mr Hunters name with the correct legals - if possible.

Dennis.
