Describe the reason for the proposed changes

The Gardiner property has two pivots, but is being converted to a linear system and a new half pivot. Additional water rights are being brought in from another farm to cover the increased acreage under the proposed permissible place of use. Grushes are in the process of purchasing the water rights from the Anderson property that are decreed to pivot corners that will no longer be irrigated; these rights will be moved to the Gardiner property, which Grushes are buying under a long-term contract. Gardiner will retain ownership of the proposed ppu until approximately 2014, when Grushes will take over the ownership of this farm. Grushes will retain ownership of the water rights that they are purchasing from Anderson.
