Dear Mr. Crawford:

Your letter in regard to priority of water right under the noted permit has been received.

The earliest priority this office can allow is the date an acceptable application is received in this office.

The District Court is the only place where the priority can be allowed dating back to the first use of the water.

Your use right to the water is legal in this state, however this office cannot recognize such a right as it is not of record. We do have a copy of the notice posted on the stream bank by J. C. Richardson, dated April 9, 1900. Such a notice is only a notice that the work is intended and has no effect in proving that the work was completed and the water actually used beneficially.

Very truly yours,

GEO. N. CARTER

Dear sirs;

I am writing in regards to permit No. 30538. There is a mistake made in advertising the date of Priority, in the Mackay Miner that I claim for the use of the waters of March Canyon Creek. The water was first filed on by the late John G. Richardson on April 23, 1900 and was used for irrigation from that date on, on his daughters homestead.

In January of 1918 my parents purchased the daughter's homestead. My parents and my self have used this water continuously on this land since April 1918. Mr. Richardson failed to make a final proof, but where the water has been used continuously since April 1900, I feel that I should be able to claim the water with this priority.

Sincerely

Walter E. Crawford
Darlington Idaho
30538

I perhaps should further explain to you that Mr. Richardson told my parents that he had made the final proof on the Marsh Canyon Creek water.

We had never had occasion to investigate the water, right until the spring of 1962.
