Subject: Application for Permit 37-21339

Dear Jeanie,

My apology for not sending you a note yesterday after our telephone conversation. As you know, this spring arises on my property and flows through my property to the Snake River, thus there are no competing applications, nor do I foresee any in the future. Here are the answers to the questions posed in your letter of October 15, 2004:

Is the domestic use for in-house only or does it include irrigation? It will be used for both in-house and irrigation (on no more than a half acre) purposes. This property parcel is slightly over 1 acre in size and there are no other water rights for it (no irrigation or domestic rights).

Are there any overlapping domestic and/or other rights for the same place of use?

No. There are no other rights associated with the parcel.

What is the aesthetic use? Pond? Do you intend to divert the stream? I will create a pond by installing a concrete headgate system in the stream corridor to impound it (the stream will not be diverted; a natural depression through which the stream flows will be used for the pond).

Is the 0.09 cfs justified?

Yes, it is justified by the use of the water for the pond, without which a pond could not be created - and it also will be used to sustain a birch grove and other riparian habitat as it drains into the river.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate in calling.

Sincerely,

Peter A. Bowler
