Dear Mr. Todd:

We are returning the claim form you recently submitted as your signature must be notarized before we can accept and process your claim. Please have this notarized and returned to us as soon as possible.

In your letter you asked information concerning what filings have been made for power purposes on the Little Salmon River. There are two approved water right permits and three water right applications for permit now filed. The two permits are in the name of James Howell for 150 cubic feet per second each. Permit No. 73-7155 was filed on July 29, 1980, with the point of diversion in the SENE, Sec. 27, T22N., R1E. B.M. Permit No. 78-7207 was filed on March 12, 1982, with the point of diversion in the SWNE, Sec. 27, T22N., R1E, B. M. The three applications for permit were filed by four individuals for a power project which initially diverts 300 cubic feet per second of water from the Little Salmon *through three power plants without discharging any water back into the river until the SWNE, Sec. 28, T24N., R1E, B.M. These applications are being held pending approval from the Federal Energy Regulatory Committee (FERC).

In order to begin a power project, an application for permit must be filed with our Department which will be held pending the filing of an application with FERC. Until they notify us of their approval we will continue to hold our processing of the water right application. Engineering plans for the project along with a financial statement are usually also required. I am enclosing an application for permit form along with the instructions and an affidavit for water rights to be used for power purposes. This affidavit must be completed and submitted along with the application for permit. Also enclosed for your information is a pamphlet put out by the Idaho Power Company entitled "Developing Your Own Commercial Power Project...What the Rules Are."
