Re: 78-4069 & 78-4071

Dear Mr. Goodman:

Today we received three claims to a water right. All were in good form except for the source of water on two of the claims. You indicated that the source of water was "flood water" used for irrigation.

This Department defines "flood water" as the water in a stream that is above the normal flow of the stream due to spring snow melt. On the other hand, "waste water" is the water that flows off irrigated lands which can be reused on other lands.

Please notify this Department in writing as to whether the waters claimed are flood water or waste water.

Sincerely,

PETER J. CHAMBERLIN
Water Resource Agent
