Re: Claim 67-4335

Dear Mr. Johnson:

I have received your letter of October 7, 1981 and accompanying information, all of which has been added to the claim file.

You also asked several questions in your letter which I will try to answer. Your original claim was for the irrigation of 50 acres and the watering of livestock with 0.40 cfs (20 miners inches) of water. It would be permissible for you to change the delivery system for this water but the original use can not be changed or enlarged. That is, it would be permissible for you to sprinkle the same 50 acres as originally irrigated using 0.40 cfs of water.

If you wish to add additional uses, such as domestic, or power production or change part of the existing uses, irrigation and stockwater, to another use, you will need to file the appropriate document with the Department. To add new uses an application for a new water right will be necessary. To change all or part of an existing use to a different use a transfer of water right must be filed with the Department.

If you decide to either add or change uses, please contact this office and we will send you the necessary form or you may wish to stop by our office and one of our staff can assist you with any necessary forms. If you have any questions, please contact this office.

Claim No. 67-4335

Dear Mr. Shaw,

In your letter of January 27, 1981 you stated that if we find any further information to support evidence of our claim to let you know. My wife made an extensive study of the history of the "Stevens Stage Station" several years ago and prepared a "plaque" which was hung in the (still standing) old house. However, a tenant allowed other people to remove it and we just recently found where it was, and recovered it. I have made a photo copy of same and am enclosing it for your information. Hopefully, this information will help confirm our water right.

Would there be any restrictions to us putting this water in a pipeline, for use in sprinkler irrigation, or domestic use? Not only would this conserve the water, but could possibly be used for domestic power generation and water pressure for domestic use.

Respectfully yours,

Kenneth A. Johnson

HISTORY OF STEVEN'S STAGE COACH INN

The first people, of course, who inhabited this area were the fierce Nez Pierce and Shoshone Indians. They were short, well-proportioned, similar in appearance to the midwest tribes. Their skin ranged from light yellow to dark reddish. There were also many forts in the area, one only a mile south of here.

The first white settlers in the area were both young and fantastically energetic.

This house was built in the year 1872 or 1873 as a stage coach stop, and was named Steven's Stage Station. The first living room was the bar, the second living--room was the dining room, and the upstairs was lined with bunks for overnite guests. At a later date, the kitchen girls doubled for the upstairs girls. Steven's daughter married Ketchup Bottle Tommy (Tommy Estes). It is not known what happened to the other members of the family. The bar was a favorite spot for travelers, local cattle and sheep herders, and the loggers who worked in the nearby woods. Solo was the most popular card game played in the bar room.

Steven's Stage Station was the only stop between Council and New Meadows. The stage coach started in Weiser, Idaho, and ended in New Meadows in the 1800's. The Indians were very troublesome to the settlers and travelers, many of the white people were killed including women and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gilmore bought this place, which was then 40 acres, in 1917 for $ 350.⁰⁰. They proceeded to repair existing irrigation ditches and build more to irrigate their crops. They planted a large garden and some fruit trees, with their field crops of grain, potatoes and some pasture. The former farmer and Doubleday Sheep Company owned the back 80 acres. Later on the Gilmore's bought the other 80 acres and proceeded to build more ditches to irrigate the back fields. Many of the original ditches are still in use today, doing a remarkable engineering layout.

Later on the Gilmores built a log cabin, at the time Steven's Station house was almost 50 years old, which has been gone for some 25 years now while Steven's Station is still inhabited.

Mrs. Gilmores parents moved to the Council area in 1883 when she was three years old, later buying what is now known as Zim's Hot Springs. At the time there was no North or South roads, only a trail used by all and crossing the Weiser River 75 time between Council and New Meadows. At the age of 89 and living in Payette, Mrs. Gilmore still recalls how rough it was when the coach wheels hit the rocks.

The railroad was built to Steven's Station in 1890, where passengers stayed overnite and went on by coach to New Meadows and points North.

We bought this property from Art Capps in 1965. This history was compiled and written in 1966, one year later. Mrs. Gilmore was our main source, but we talked to several other pioneers, including an elderly gentleman at the Old Soldiers Home in Boise, who worked for the Doubleday Sheep Company and frequented Steven's Station.

Mrs. Gilmore also gave us the original photograph of Steven's Station which was taken in 1882 or 1883.
