Dear Mr. Marti:

In response to your letter of January 21, 1988 concerning transferring ownership of the above referenced water rights, we offer the following.

In Idaho, licensed and decreed rights are considered to be real property, and appurtenant to the land. Therefore, proof of ownership of the land is proof of ownership of the water right if the water rights have not been transferred off the property.

Your letter has been placed in the water right files for reference. Copies of the rights are enclosed for your information. If you have any further questions, please let us know.

Ladies & Gentlemen:

In your letter that we received regarding the Daisy Marti transfer, you were concerned about the Zetta Smith and Fred Bain water right using the Allison - Jewell Ditch for delivery of their water. In checking with the Weiser River Watermaster, Mr. Lawson Howland, he indicated that the above mentioned people do have rights that can use the A-J Ditch and no transfers by them are necessary.

If you have any additional questions concerning the Smith-Bane rights, you may wish to contact Mr. Howland.

Dear Lee: Department of Water Resources
Western Regional Office

In the big blue book I have it shows the decree No 67-038 coming from the Offet - Weston ditch. I have it listed ~~and~~ the Cove assessment. Anyway, the Cove ditch, or I should say, the waste water from the Cove ditch goes into the Allison - Jewell ditch about 200 yards below the weir on the A-J. ditch. Over next to the hill.

From as far back as I remember Howard Marti has always pumped his water from the A-J. ditch right where the county road crosses, about 250 yards from the end of the Weiser river bridge. Howard told me today he intended pumping at the same place. He said he was just trying to get his water right updated.

The ditch that is used by Zetta Smith and Fred Bain is diverted from the A-J ditch on the other side of the county road from where Marti pumps his water. I think, also that Bain uses some of the water from the A-J. ditch for the lower part of his ranch.

So, in reality, Lee, the water right transfer of Daisy Martin hasn't changed the water distribution one bit.

In the blue book I have, it shows the three water rights that belong to Zetta Smith & Fred Bain are out of the levee ditch A.K.A. Smith, James, Martin's ditch. Do you suppose when they diverted it out of the Allison-Jewell ditch they named it the Smith, James, Martin's. I'll let you figure that out.

Can you make any sense out of what I've just written? If you can't give me a call and I'll really try and get you mixed up.

Sincerely,

Lawson Howland

Re: Application for Transfer No. 67-0038 in the name of Daisy Marti

Ladies and Gentlemen:

The Department received your letter dated May 18, 1982, regarding the above transfer, on May 19, 1982. Section 42-222, Idaho Code specifies the procedure for placing the notice of a transfer in a newspaper and the time allowed for submitting a protest against that transfer. The final day for submitting such protests was May 17, 1982.

Approval of the transfer by the Department does not, however, automatically grant the water right holder a right-of-way or easement to use the property or ditches of another party. The water right holder must still obtain access to the ditch or canal sought to be used and could be liable for any damages resulting from the use of that ditch or canal.

I am forwarding a copy of your letter and this letter to the applicant. I have also asked the watermaster to check on the water rights of Smith and Bain which you mentioned in your letter. He will determine if a transfer by either of them is necessary.

If you have any questions about this letter or the transfer please feel free to contact this office.

Yours truly,

Dear Lawson:

Recently we began processing a transfer for Daisy Marti (copy enclosed). Her son is trying to move water from, I think, the Cove Ditch to the Allison-Jewell to avoid the ditch loss he claims is being suffered.

Also, enclosed is a copy of a protest letter that we received late so no action will be taken. At the end of the letter the lady mentions that Zetta Smith and Fred Bain run their water in the Allison-Jewell and it should be in the "Smith, James, Martin Ditch". Could you please check this out and see if this is true, if they do put their water in the A-J ditch they may need to file a transfer.

We would appreciate your looking into this matter for us.
