Dear Mr. Kennedy:

We are in receipt of your letter of February 26, 1969. We cannot completely evaluate Permit No. G-29093 as the department has not completed the field examination and prepared a license.

In general, Mr. beesley could file an application to cover the same ground as covered by this permit as long as both permits or applications do not propose the diversion of more than 1/50 of a cubic foot per second per irrigated acre individually or combined.

The new application could also cover lands not covered by Permit No. G-29093 to the full coverage of 1 inch per acre or 1/50 of a cubic foot per second per irrigated acre.

As you are aware, the new permit could only provide a priority as the date of filing of the new application.

We are enclosing an assignment form and an application for permit with instructions for your use in this matter. If we may be of further assistance, please advise us.

Gentlemen:

Mr. Beesley, the holder of the above named permit and license for irrigation well, intends to obtain another permit for well on the same ground, plus some additional, as covered by the above mentioned permit. The above permit was originally applied for two wells. Only one was drilled. The second is now to be drilled. Please advise regarding the coverage of the above permit, and the overlapping of ground irrigated will effect the permits.

Also, Mr. Beesley wishes to assign the above permit to Beesley Farm, Inc., so would appreciate receiving the necessary forms, etc.

Re: Charles E. Beesley,
Permit No. G-29003

Dear Mr. Tappan:

I enclose herewith the depositions for final proof in the above ground water application. The delay in submitting these documents was caused by the publisher in misplacing the affidavit of publication.

You will note that the permit holder did not drill two wells, but only drilled and used one well, which accounts for the difference in water appropriated as shown in the original application and as shown in these depositions.

If at a later date Mr. Beesley drills the second well, I presume he can apply on the same land. The water from this well now in use and that from any second well will all be used on the same land.

I would appreciate your comments and suggestions on this.

Yours very truly,

W. B. Kennedy
