Padding greatly extends the wear-life of the carpet — by as much as 100% according to some industry estimates — by absorbing much of the pounding of foot traffic. Also padding increases carpet's ability to reduce noise, makes a carpet more buoyant underfoot adding to the comfort and the feeling of luxury. Underlays are designed to ease maintenance by creating airpockets under the carpet that facilitate vacuuming. Padding contributes all these benefits at a very low cost. Prices of carpet underlay today range from under a dollar up to about $2.50 a square yard.

Rubber paddings for carpets offer the advantages of being durable, mildew-proof, mothproof and non-allergenic. They usually cost more than the felted cushioning materials, though some "thinner" grades can be found which are priced lower than the hair-felt products.

Rubber underlays range in thickness from one-eighth to one-half of an inch. One-quarter or three-eighths inch rubber padding is usually sufficient for home installation.

Another popular type of padding is made of felted hair impregnated with foam rubber. This underlay combines advantages of both the felted and rubber products.

Dear Mr. Eliason:

Enclosed are the "Application" and "Claim" forms you requested in your letter of March 20, 1974.

There is no procedure for assigning a licensed water right to another party, since it is appurtenant to the land and is conveyed along with the land to the new owner. Therefore, evidence of ownership of the land to which the water right is appurtenant is evidence of the ownership of the water right.

If you have any questions regarding this matter, please let us know.

Sincerely,

BOBBY D. FLEENOR

Dear Mr. Eliason:

Our records have been searched for any water rights on the land described in your January 31, 1974, letter.

No water rights were found for the irrigation of the land in Sec. 16, nor for the use of the springs. The land in Sec. 15 is irrigation, by water, diverted under License No. 24-2001 (Transfer No. 988). A copy of the transfer on License No. 24-2001 is included for your records.

Applications for diversion of water from the springs may be filed, but are not required if the springs are wholly contained on your land. An application form is enclosed for your consideration.

You also indicated that one of the springs is presently being used. If you desire to make a record of this historic use, you should complete and file the enclosed Claim to an existing water right form.

We are also sending you a Water Users Handbook which may explain the procedure more fully.

If we can be of any further assistance, please let us know.

Sincerely,

BOBBY D. FLEENOR

Padding greatly extends the wear-life of the carpet — by as much as 100% according to some industry estimates — by absorbing much of the pounding of foot traffic. Also padding increases carpet's ability to reduce noise, makes a carpet more buoyant undefoot adding to the comfort and the feeling of luxury. Underlays are designed to ease maintenance by creating airpockets under the carpet that facilitate vacuuming. Padding contributes all these benefits at a very low cost. Prices of carpet underlay today range from under a dollar up to about $2.50 a sq. yard.

Rubber paddings for carpets offer the advantages of being durable, mildew-proof, mothproof and non-allergenic. They usually cost more than the felted cushioning materials, though some "thinner" grades can be found which are priced lower than the hair-felt products.

Rubber underlays range in thickness from one-eighth to one-half of an inch. One-quarter or three-eighths inch rubber padding is usually sufficient for home installation.

Another popular type of padding is made of felted hair impregnated with foam rubber. This underlay combines advantages of both the felted and rubber products.
