Dear Mr. Reed:

In response to your letter, I hope following helps resolve all of your confusion.

On January 8, 1973, you filed with the Department an application for a permit to appropriate water by drilling a well for domestic and irrigation purposes, thereby establishing your priority date on that day. Later, your permit was approved with three conditions of approval: 1) subject to all prior water rights; 2) proof of beneficial use and construction of the works was to be submitted on or before February 1, 1978; and, 3) a measuring device of type approved by this Department shall be permanently installed and maintained as part of the diverting works.

In November, 1977, this Department notified you by certified mail that proof of beneficial use was due and you submitted it. However, the Department recognized the proof as a request for extension of time and granted you a year's extension making proof due February 1, 1979. In October, 1978, the Department notified you by an order that the measuring device requirement was no longer a condition of your permit.

Again, on November, 1978, the Department notified you by certified mail that proof of beneficial use was due and instructed you as to the steps to make proof on or before February 1, 1979. Then, because proof of beneficial use was not submitted, the Department notified you by letter that your permit had lapsed since you had not completed the conditions of your permit and submitted proof, and that you had 60 days in which to do so.

Michael J. Reed

I received your letter explaining that you needed the water. So to help you meet the requirements of your permit, I partially completed a form for you and requested you complete it, and return it to put your permit in good standing. However, since your permit was in a state of lapsing, and you did not get the proof in on or before February 1, 1979, you lose a day of priority for every day the proof is late. You submitted proof of beneficial use on March 9, 1979, 36 days late. Thirty-six days added to January 8, 1973 gives us your new priority date.

The next step is to have our field examiner do an inspection of your system and you will be notified of the results. (We can't tell exactly when that will be). If you agree with the results then a license will issued.

I hope this makes our processing on your permit clear. If you have further questions please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,

Rita Fleck

Rita Fleck I am confused. I received a letter stating I did not need to put on a measuring device. Then I received a notice my permit was cancelled because I had not installed a measuring device.

Now I received an order of reinstatement dated March 22-1979, advanced to Feb 13, 1973. Is this just an error in typing. Please let me know what the priority advanced date is. Glen Reed

Dear Mr. Reed:

One of the conditions of approval of your water Permit No. 63-7711 (see last page of your approved permit) was that evidence of the extent of development be submitted as proof of application of water to beneficial use to this office on or before February 1, 1979. Enclosed is an affidavit form which must be used to submit the required proof of beneficial use.

If you have not fully completed your project, and you have not previously received an extension of time, you may request an extension of time provided the delay is for reasonable cause as indicated in Section 42-204, Idaho Code, amended. If you have been prevented from proceeding by a governmental agency or by litigation, more than one extension of time can be granted.

Either the beneficial use affidavit or a request for an extension of time must be received by this Department on or before the above mentioned date, otherwise, the permit will lapse and be of no further force or effect.

Dear Wateruser:

The enclosed Order removes the measuring device requirement as a condition of approval from your permit.

If you have installed the measuring device, the field examination can be more expediently conducted by the Department's field examiner as well as you will derive benefit from water management information which may be obtained from the installed meter.

If you have questions regarding this matter, please contact this office or our regional offices.

Sincerely,

L. GLEN SAXTON

Dear Mr. Reed:

One of the conditions of approval of your water Permit No. 63-7711 (see last page of your approved permit) was that evidence of the extent of development be submitted as proof of application of water to beneficial use to this office on or before February 1, 1978. Enclosed is an affidavit form which must be used to submit the required proof of beneficial use.

If you have not fully completed your project, and you have not previously received an extension of time, you may request an extension of time provided the delay is for reasonable cause as indicated in Section 42-204, Idaho Code, amended. If you have been prevented from proceeding by a governmental agency or by litigation, more than one extension of time can be granted.

Either the beneficial use affidavit or a request for an extension of time must be received by this Department on or before the above mentioned date, otherwise the permit will lapse and be of no further force or effect.
