Re: Notice of Petition for Declaratory
Order, Idaho Power Co., Swan Falls
Water Rights, Idaho
Docket No. EL 85-38-000

Dear Mr. Plumb:

In a telephone conversation to David Borgers of your staff on September 6, we learned that the referenced declaratory order had been issued as a public notice and agencies were invited to comment until August 31. We first saw the notice on September 9 when we received a copy from Mr. Borgers. We have a strong interest in your decision on this order and request that you accept our comments at this time.

We understand that the petition from Idaho Power Company asked the FERC to find, among other things, that the proposed subordination of Idaho Power's water rights at Swan Falls dam and other of its Snake River hydroelectric projects would be in the public interest. Further, FERC is asked to approve proposed minimum Snake River flows of 3,900 cfs during April through October and 5,600 cfs November through March, as measured at the Murphy, Idaho, Snake River stream gauge. The minimum flow at Lime Point in the Snake River near Lewiston would be 13,000 cfs for 95 percent of the time.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service administers Deer Flat National Wildlife Refuge (NWR) in southwest Idaho. The NWR includes 86 islands in the Snake River between Walters Ferry, Idaho, and Farewell Bend, Oregon, a distance of 110 river miles. This island segment of the NWR was established by Executive Order in 1937. The islands are important for the production of Canada geese. The average annual production of geese from these islands, based on partial annual surveys, for the period 1979 - 1985, inclusive, is estimated at over 3,700 goslings. Ducks, pheasants, quail, and other ground nesting birds are also produced on these islands. Bald eagles and peregrine falcons, endangered species, winter in this reach of the Snake River and use trees on the islands for hunting and resting perches.

Ground-nesting birds like Canada geese need nest protection from mammalian predators such as coyotes, farm dogs, and foxes. Snake River flows normally provide a water barrier around the NWR islands that prevents such predators from reaching the islands. However, with the minimum flows proposed by the declaratory order, it is probable that at least half of the islands will lose the protection from mammalian predators that they now have. Our regional hydrologist did an analysis of minimum water depths around the NWR islands using the proposed minimum flows at Murphy (see enclosure). The data on stream-bed topography were determined in 1975, so that evaluation only shows the probable result of the flows. A new study needs to be done to accurately determine the 1985 effects on the NWR of the minimum flows.

Further, we believe that we have a Federal reserved water right for Snake River flows adequate to protect the nesting waterfowl from mammalian predators. This water right goes back to 1937. We have not quantified the water right, but it is obviously greater than 5,600 cfs, based on the enclosed study.

Based on the above concerns, we recommend that the FERC not approve the proposed declaratory order until the parties agree to provide flows adequate to protect the interests of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Sincerely yours,

John P. Wolflin
Field Supervisor

SUBJECT: Snake River Islands NWR - Water Level

In response to your February 13 memorandum, we have evaluated the effect of flow reduction in the Snake River below Swan Falls Dam on the Snake River Islands NWR. Accessibility by mammalian predators to these islands with the reduced flow was determined by using the report entitled "Streambed Topography Near Snake River Islands" by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife, Division of River Basin Studies, Boise Area Office, dated 1975. Plate numbers are those used in the report; depths of water were determined by using the 11 FWS-established gage sites.

Portland 8, Oregon

Gentlemen:

We wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of January 24, 1956, in which you state that you have complied with the terms of the above stated Permit, requiring that one-fifth of the work be completed on or before January 30, 1956, and advising that the well and sprinkler system is completed.

Under the terms of said Permit, Completion of Works proof and Beneficial Use proof is due on July 30, 1957, however, if you wish to make these proofs prior to the above stated date you may do so at any time to suit your convenience.

Before these proofs are made, the statutes require publication of a notice once a week for four weeks in a county newspaper. This notice should be made in duplicate on Form 36 enclosed, setting the time and place and naming the notary public before whom the proofs are to be made.

The proofs may be made at any place convenient for you and your two witnesses but the date must be set far enough ahead to allow for four weeks publication.

Both copies of Form 36 to be returned to this department together with Form 11 which is your authorization for us to have the notice published at your expense in the designated county newspaper.
