ATTENTION: John C. Hepworth

Dear Mr. Hepworth:

Please be advised that we have changed the above referenced application as requested in your letter of January 28, 1971. However, in order to evaluate the period of use for stockwatering, we will need to know the maximum amount of livestock that will be using the water. We are withholding further processing of the application until we hear from you on the matter.

Your assistance is greatly appreciated.

Atten: D. W. McEldowney Re: Permit No. 47-7111

Dear Don:

We represent Dallis D. Brown and prepared the application for the above-numbered permit. Inadvertently I requested a year-round irrigation season. Actually he would only need from April 1 to November 1, as would be customary except that he will also pump year-round for the purpose of water for livestock. I do not know how this would be handled in the permit inasmuch as he would propose to fill a pond for the purpose of watering livestock and then pump the necessary water to fill this pond as it lowered. Therefore, the pump would not be running continually during the off season but would be operated intermittently as the need arose.

Would you please consider this letter as authority to amend the permit accordingly and proceed with the advertising. If you need any further information, please check with this office. Your courtesy is greatly appreciated.

Very truly yours,

HEPWORTH, NUNGESTER & FELTON

Mr. Dallis D. Brown
Route #2
Buhl, Idaho 83316

Dear Mr. Brown:

In reviewing your application for permit, it is noted that you have requested a year-round irrigation season. Normally for your area, the irrigation season runs from April 1 to November 1. Of course, we realize there may be exceptions to this. In order for the Department to consider other than a normal irrigation season, we would request that you supply us with technical evidence that would support your request. We will withhold advertising until we hear from you.

Your immediate response is requested.
