Idaho law: 0.10 cfs Source: groundwater

The maximum quantity diverted shall not exceed 5.2 acre feet per year.

Point of diversion: Govt. Lot 3, Sec. 5, Twp. 33N, Rge. 4E, B. M.

Beneficial use: Domestic use for one household and stockwater use

We acknowledge receipt of the affidavit submitted as proof of beneficial use for the above referenced permit.

Before a license can be issued, a field examination must be made by a representative of this Department. We cannot tell during which part of the irrigation season this examination will be made, but our examiner will try to contact you at the time he makes the exam so that you may show him the system.

Dear Mr. Solberg:

Enclosed is an Order that extends the time within which to submit proof of beneficial use of water on Permit No. 84-7011 to March 1, 1977, and also removes the measuring device requirement.

You are correct in your observation that measuring devices are not normally required for domestic uses of water. In most instances, measuring devices were required at the time your permit was issued when the rate of diversion exceeded 90 g.p.m. Therefore, since you are now diverting less than that quantity, the measuring device requirement has been removed.

A permit is issued for the maximum development that is planned on a project, but at the end of that permit period, proof of beneficial use can only be made for the amount of water diverted. A water right license which is the measure of your permanent right is then issued for the amount of water diverted and put to a beneficial use.

If you have any questions regarding this matter, please contact us.

Sincerely,

BOBBY D. FLEENOR
Chief, Water Rights

Dear Sir:

I am writing in reference to my water permit no. 84-7011. I wish first to ask for an extension of time for compliance to the conditions stated in my permit.

Also would you please explain the reason that I am required to install a meter? As this does not seem to apply to all permits issued to privately owned & drilled wells, used primarily for domestic, livestock, garden and general farm use.

I have been wondering if the reason is that irrigation of 100 a. was listed on the application? I listed this on the application because, someday I have hopes of clearing this ground and perhaps irrigate it. I felt that since I also own the ground that collects this water, (according to the expert judgement of Mr. John G. Bond - Senior Geologist, School of Mines, VofD at Moscow, Idaho) and the fact that the first time I sent in my application it was returned, and a letter, from Dorian Clay (Appropriation Examiner), saying this, "information under Item 4, 8a, 8b and a map were needed" that I should include my possible future need also. So I did this and returned it for approval.

When I received the permit and read the conditions I planned to write this letter then but it got delayed as you can see.

Your form titled (Proof of Application of Water to Beneficial use), sounds like I can only have the permit for the amount of water actually used at this time.

So again, would you please extend my permit and explain the above questions?

Yours Truly
John E. Solberg

Dear Mr. Solberg:

One of the conditions of approval of your water Permit No. 84-7011 (see last page of your approved permit) was that evidence of the extent of development be submitted as proof of application of water to beneficial use to this office on or before March 1, 1976. Enclosed is an affidavit form which must be used to submit the required proof of beneficial use.

If you have not fully completed your project, and you have not previously received an extension of time, you may request an extension of time provided the delay is for reasonable cause as indicated in Section 42-204, Idaho Code, amended. If you have been prevented from proceeding by a governmental agency or by litigation, more than one extension of time can be granted.

Either the beneficial use affidavit or a request for an extension of time must be received by this Department on or before the above mentioned date, otherwise the permit will lapse and be of no further force or effect.
