Dear Mr. Thrapp:

I regret to advise you that a claim is not acceptable on a surface-water source with a priority date later than May 20, 1971. (your priority date is July 1, 1978.)

I am, therefore, enclosing the appropriate form for you to fill out. Also enclosed is your original Claim to a Water Right and your check No. 92-31 in the amount of $20.00.

It is noted on your Claim under Item #3 you only list domestic as a use, while under Item #6b you describe the type and number of stock to be watered as "unknown at present", which indicates that you intend to have some stock using the water. If you do indeed intend to water stock, you must so indicate under Item #3.

Also for your own information, enclosed please find a set of instructions to aid in filling out the Application for Permit.

Dear Mr. Thrapp:

An Approved Water Appropriation Permit is clear, legal evidence of a water right. It is now necessary that you file a claim on a permit, so we can consider your Claim No. 02-01 for the amount of $20.00 and your Claim No. 02-02 for a later right.

Prior to December 1, 1981, it will be necessary for you to file the enclosed "Proof of Application of Water to a Beneficial Use." Do not file this form until you have met the requirements listed on your Permit No. 86-7073.

If you have any questions, please contact our staff office.

RE: 86-7073

Dear Mr. Thrapp:

Enclosed is the license for your water right. Mr. King in his letter explained that from the time you submitted "proof of beneficial use" to the department, your water right was not in any danger.

My staff examines over 700 water projects ranging from domestic systems to irrigation systems for several hundred acres each summer. During the winter months, these examinations are analyzed and water right licenses are issued. Unless there is some reason, such as a pending sale of property or loan, these licenses are issued in the sequence in which the examination was made.

Normally, since the examination of your system was made during the latter part of the summer, your license would be issued next spring or early summer. This delay in no way would jeopardize your water right since you have completed all of the requirements you have under Idaho Code for developing a water right.

There was no discrimination in the delay of issuing your water right license. I simply do not have adequate staff to accomplish our work without significant delays. I have expedited issuing your license, however, to avoid the necessity of further costly and time consuming correspondence.

Re: 86-7073

Dear Mr. Thrapp:

The "formal" extension of time to which you refer is only granted to those entities which have failed to complete the water system in the allotted amount of time. They can be allowed up to five years to complete the system, upon showing a reasonable cause for failure to complete the system.

Your Permit No. 86-7073 was approved on December 19, 1977, and you were, at your request, given until December 1, 1982, to complete your project. On December 15, 1980, you submitted to this Department a statement asserting that you had completed the system described in Permit No. 86-7073. I received this statement on January 26, 1981, and acknowledged its receipt on January 28, 1981, at which time I advised you that an examination of the system is required by law and that your permit would remain valid until the examination was made. You may take this letter as a verification of the validity of your permit until the examination is made.

Thank you for the August 18 letter. I had thought the photo we sent would obviate the need for inspection of our property. The photograph shows the installation (concrete pump box at the spring, concrete reservoir above the house, and the house), except for piping, on which we have ventured much money. Having lived here for some time, we are living proof that it works.

If we cannot have our water right (license), we think we should have formal extension (as stated in the State law) of our Water Use Permit.

Re: 86-7073

Dear Mr. Thrapp:

An Approved Water Appropriation Permit is prima facie evidence of a water right. It is not necessary that you file a claim on a permit, so we are returning your Check No. 92-31 in the amount of $20.00 and your Claim to a Water Right.

Prior to December 1, 1982, it will be necessary for you to file the enclosed "Proof of Application of Water to a Beneficial Use." Do not file this form until you have met the requirements listed on your Permit No. 86-7073.

If you have any questions, please contact me at this office.

Sincerely,

TOM D. KING

Dear Mr Thrapp,

Your application for permit was received and is in the process of approval now. This office handled the advertising and held it for protests (of which there were none). We forwarded it to the Boise Office on October 19 for final processing.

They have been quite busy because of the drought and are somewhat behind on their work load, but, I'm certain that they will be completed with the processing of your application in the very near future.

If we can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Re: 86-7073

Dear Mr. Thrapp:

The "formal" extension of time to which you refer is only granted to those entities which have failed to complete the water system in the allotted amount of time. They can be allowed up to five years to complete the system, upon showing a reasonable cause for failure to complete the system.

Your Permit No. 86-7073 was approved on December 19, 1977, and you were, at your request, given until December 1, 1982, to complete your project. On December 15, 1980, you submitted to this Department a statement asserting that you had completed the system described in Permit No. 86-7073. I received this statement on January 26, 1981, and acknowledged its receipt on January 28, 1981, at which time I advised you that an examination of the system is required by law and that your permit would remain valid until the examination was made. You may take this letter as a verification of the validity of your permit until the examination is made.

Sincerely,

Thank you for the August 18 letter. I had thought the photo we sent would obviate the need for inspection of our property. The photograph shows the installation (concrete pump box at the spring, concrete reservoir above the house, and the house), except for piping, on which we have ventured much money. Having lived here for some time, we are living proof that it works.

If we cannot have our water right (license), we think we should have formal extension (as stated in the State law) of our Water Use Permit.

Re: 86-7073

Dear Mr. Thrapp:

A use permit is indeed granted to develop a water right. Once the conditions of the permit are met, however, an examiner from this Department must verify the completion of the system and issue the subsequent license. The license is "prima facie" evidence of a water right.

The examination will probably be done sometime this summer. I am already familiar with your system and it will not be necessary for you to be present during the examination.

If you have any questions, please contact me at this office.

Dear Mr. King;

Thank you for the letter of January 28 regarding our application for a water right. We do not understand substitution of the term "license".

When we obtained a "Use Permit", so that we could proceed to develop our water system, it was understood that a "water right" would be granted after our investment was made and the system was completed and operable.

I shall enclose a picture which may help in your evaluation of what we have accomplished.

It will be helpful, to us, if you can inform us, even approximately, of when your examiner will come our way.

Dear Hilton & Vernay,

Just a few lines to keep you posted on current events. We have completed a survey to determine the total rise from the spring to the building site (site #2). Of course this will depend on your final decision on the location. Today I walked the full length of the stream from the head waters at the spring to its junction with the Clearwater River. I could find no evidence of any head gates or catchment basin that would indicate someone is tapping the spring at any location along its entire length.

Dear Hilton:

Just a few lines to bring you abreast of current events at the building site.

You will be pleased to know that all our excavating was accomplished without any disturbance to the Lenore spring. As we suspected, they flow in completely different strata. In fact, your spring originates in at least 6 different locations along the length of the trench. After completing the spring excavating this morning, we started the basement excavation and will complete it tomorrow morning. The soil is quite easy to dig with a sprinkling of large boulders.

We obtained permits for access to the county road and am enclosing the application forms from the Clearwater Power for electrical service. These can be filled out and returned directly to the Clearwater Power Company with the proper fees, and they will make the necessary hook-up to our temporary pole. Yours is much simpler and less expensive than Ken's where they will have to set two poles. In your case no new pole will be necessary.

The building permit can be obtained after we receive the sewage permit. This is still waiting for the test hole to be dug which is waiting for the access road to be completed. I had the D-8 Cat lined up but the light rain last night scared him off for a few days.

We received Ken's building permit today, so I don't foresee any problem here.
