The present water line was constructed, approximately in 1968, by Howard, Lavern and Fred Daugherty, to get water to Daugherty and Son's Cedar Products Mill, now Syringa Land & Timber, and to their place of residence. At that time, Bob Wells, owner of Wells Outdoorsman, now Bentons Outdoorsman; Harvey Thompson; James Morrison; Lloyd Puryear and Elmer Utz were invited to lay their separate water line in the same ditch, while the work was being done. At that time, a spring box, 6' x 6' x 6' was built and placed near Little Smith Creek for diversion of water. A water claim was supposed to have been filed around that year or 1969 or 70 under Daugherty & Sons Cedar Products. On August 16, 1982, a Mutual Water Line Easement was recorded.
