Dear Mr. Smith:

Your recent letter questioned the condition of the Permit No. 29-7171 that requires proof of beneficial use in 1979 even though your well has been used for several years.

A water right license can be used only for the amount of development that has taken place during the permit period. Therefore, the date of proof of beneficial use being due in the future, will allow you an opportunity to complete your mobile home court and allow us to issue a water right license for the full development of your project.

However, if you reach your maximum development prior to the 1979 due date, please let us know and we will forward the proof of beneficial use forms to you. If you have any further questions, please let us know.

Sincerely,

BOBBY D. FLEENOR

Department of Water Resources

Dear Sirs:

In 1974 I was issued permit
no. 29-7171 for my mobile home court.

However one of the conditions of approval is not clear to me, the one relating to proof of construction of works and application of water to beneficial use. The well was drilled in 1967 and put into service in 1968 and has been used for the court ever since. Looking back on the application for permit submitted in 1974
I do not understand why I put 5 years in statement #7 page 1. Unless that was a time project for completion of the entire court, which would involve only addition main water line
extension and small branch lines to the mobile home spaces, which I don't see how would effect the permit. Please advise, thank you

Sincerely,

M. M. M.

P.S. The reason I waited until '74 to apply for permit was that my well driller said he would take care of everything, it was called to my attention in '74 he hadn't.
