Bear River Water Users above Bear Lake

Re: Non-Irrigation Season Stock Water Use

Dear Water User,

The Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR) recognizes that a number of river diversions above Bear Lake have been used for stock watering purposes during the non-irrigation season. Unfortunately, there are no water rights on record that document this practice for most of the diversions in the area. There has been some concern this year regarding this practice given the severe drought and the low water levels in Bear Lake. This issue should be an on-going concern for IDWR and area water users since the water right decree above Bear Lake (Preston-Montpelier Irrigation Co. vs Dingle Irrigation Co.) includes no rights or provisions for non-irrigation season stock water use other than the West Fork Irrigation Co. The general irrigation season in the decree is from April 15 through September 30. A search of IDWR water rights records does not reveal any additional water rights for non-irrigation uses above the Bear Lake.

Given the above concern, IDWR requests that all owners or operators of any river diversion that is currently being used to divert water for stock or other non-irrigation purposes immediately file a beneficial use claim with the department. A claim should also be filed for any river diversion that is presently off but may be used later this winter for stock watering or other non-irrigation uses. IDWR will instruct the Bear River watermaster to shut off any diversion for which a claim is not filed or where a water right does not already exist for non-irrigation season uses. The department requests that the claims be filed pursuant to Section 42-243, Idaho Code. A beneficial use claim form and all applicable statutes are attached to this letter for your use and reference.

Please note that pursuant to Section 42-221, the filing fee for all beneficial use claims filed after June 30, 1998 is $250.00. This fee will increase to $500 for any claim filed after June 30, 2005.

Please contact me directly at 327-7864 if you have specific questions regarding this notice. You may also contact this office or the IDWR regional office in Idaho Falls for assistance in completing or filing any beneficial use claims.

Sincerely,
