MEMO

To: Claims to Water Rights and Application for Permit for Curtis Cox

From: Ernie EMC

In drafting the claims and application for Mr. Cox it was decided to consider Rockslide and Spring Creeks as a single source of water. This decision was based on the practice, started in 1900, of diverting the entire flow from Rockslide Creek into Spring Creek, and then diverting the comingled water into a gravity flow sprinkler system. Diversion of water into this system is conducted without regards to the quantity of water taken from each creek, since the entire combined flow is normally diverted during the irrigation season.

Furthermore all of the water users on both streams receive their water through this system on a time rotation schedule.
