

AFFIDAVIT OF WATER RIGHT CLAIMS OF MALAD VALLEY IRRIGATING COMPANY

STATE OF IDAHO)
 : ss
County of Oneida)

The undersigned officers and directors of Malad Valley Irrigating Company, being first duly sworn, depose and state as follows:

1. The undersigned Affiants, Grant Jones, Lon Corbridge and Louis Dredge (hereinafter referred to collectively as "Affiants") as officers and directors, submit this Affidavit on behalf of Malad Valley Irrigating Company (hereinafter "the Company") for filing with the State of Idaho Department of Water Resources ("the Department") for the purpose of setting forth the rights owned and claimed by the Company to the public waters of Idaho established by permit, license, claim and by diversion and application to beneficial use under the laws and Constitution of the State of Idaho.

2. Affiant Grant Jones is 69 years of age, the President of the Company since 1996 and a shareholder since 1962. Affiant Lon Corbridge is 71 years of age, currently the Secretary of the Company, a past President and member of the Board of Directors continuously since 1985 and a shareholder since 1973. Affiant Louis Dredge is 55 years of age, a member of the Board of Directors continuously since 1977, a past President and shareholder since 1971.

The information contained in this Affidavit is true and correct to the best of Affiants' knowledge, information and belief based upon their personal knowledge, review of the Company's records, and observations as shareholders, board members and officers of the Company, together with the Articles of Incorporation, By Laws, Minutes and other records maintained by the Company since its inception.

3. The Company was incorporated as an Idaho nonprofit corporation by Articles of Incorporation filed with and approved by the Office of the Territorial Secretary of the State of Idaho on June 12, 1882. The Company has existed and operated since that time for the purpose of delivering irrigation water to its shareholders in Oneida County, Idaho. Presently the Company has 180 shareholders who collectively irrigate 8924 acres..

4. Attached hereto as Exhibit "A" and incorporated by reference is a map depicting Devil Creek and its tributaries together with Devil Creek, Crowther and St. Johns Reservoirs described below. Commencing on April 1, 1882, the Company has continuously diverted and applied to beneficial use all of the water naturally flowing in Devil Creek and its tributaries. The headwaters of Devil Creek arise in Mill Canyon, commonly known as Power House Canyon. Near the Malad Summit the water is divided with one-fourth diverted in a northerly direction into Marsh Valley and three-fourths diverted in a southerly direction into the Devil Creek drainage via a canal. There are numerous unnamed springs and streams tributary to Devil Creek including, but not limited to Campbell, Heath Hollow, Station, New Canyon, Rattlesnake, Evans, Birch and Spring Creeks. These creeks contribute to Devil Creek below Devil Creek Reservoir and above Crowther and St. Johns Reservoirs. The water naturally flowing in Devil Creek and its tributaries is contained and stored in Devil Creek, St. Johns and Crowther Reservoirs on a year-round basis, although the primary storage results from winter snowmelt and spring runoff.

During the normal irrigation season from April 1 through November 1 the natural flow is passed through the reservoirs and, combined with released storage water, provides the irrigation water needs of the shareholders. The records of the Company reflect that on the average it delivers approximately 7500 acre feet of water to the shareholders. The annual water delivered varies based upon availability, climatic conditions and needs and has varied from a low of 2500 acre feet in times of extreme drought to in excess of 10,000 acre feet in the best water years. The shareholders of the Company irrigate some 8924 acres located in Townships 13, 14 and 15 S., and Ranges 35 and 36 E., B.M., Oneida County. These lands are generally adjacent to Devil Creek downstream from Devil Creek Reservoir and are more specifically described in the "Land List Attachment" attached to the Application for Permit, attached hereto as Exhibit B.

5. St. Johns Reservoir was constructed and first became operational in the spring of 1898. In approximately 1908 this reservoir was washed out and rebuilt to a larger size in the same location. In 1952 this reservoir again was washed out and again was rebuilt a larger size at the same location. St. Johns Reservoir has a capacity of 810 A.F., is primarily filled from Birch Creek, and is also used to store water naturally flowing in Devil Creek and water released from Devil Creek Reservoir.

Crowther Reservoir was constructed in 1948 and has been continuously used since that time for the purpose of storing and releasing irrigation water. Crowther Reservoir has a capacity of 1053 A.F., is filled from stored water released from Devil Creek Reservoir and from the natural flow of Devil Creek and its tributaries.

Devil Creek Reservoir was constructed in 1969. Department Water Right No. 15-02081 authorizes the storage of water from Devil Creek up to a maximum of 4464.0 A.F. per year, with a priority date of June 10, 1940. The authorized use is for storage for irrigation and irrigation from storage. This water right resulted from Bureau of Reclamation Permit No. R682, which authorized the construction of the Devil Creek Reservoir. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a copy of the "Proof of Application of Water to Beneficial Use", based upon which License No. 15-02081 was issued.

Water from Right No. 15-02081 is also stored both in Devil Creek and Crowther Reservoirs. Water is diverted from Devil Creek at the "D.L. Evans Diversion" located in the SW1/4 SW1/4, Section 35, Township 13 S., Range 36 E., B.M., into the "Reservoir Diversion Ditch" which transports water in a southwesterly direction to St. Johns Reservoir, or remains in the natural drainage of Devil Creek which runs in a southerly direction to Crowther Reservoir.

6. There are no other water rights along Devil Creek drainage other than the Company's, except in the lower reach of New Canyon. The Company diverts all water flowing in New Canyon into a ditch near the mouth of the canyon which transports the water to Devil Creek. In the lower reach of New Canyon below the Company's diversion, water arises from springs and seeps into the New Canyon drainage where it is diverted and used by approximately three other users who are believed to hold rights pursuant to a private decree for irrigation purposes during the normal irrigation season. Return flows and winter flows in the lower reach of New Canyon are also stored year round in the Company's reservoirs described above.

7. There are no minimum stream flow requirements in Devil Creek or any of its tributaries. There are no minimum pool requirements on St. Johns or Crowther Reservoirs, although the Company does voluntarily maintain minimum pool levels to enhance fisheries and public recreation. Devil Creek Reservoir has a minimum pool requirement of 300 A.F.

8. On March 4, 1982, the Company filed a "Claim to a Water Right", under the provisions of Section 42-243, Idaho Code, pertaining to water naturally flowing in Birch Creek and stored in St. Johns Reservoir, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit "D". As indicated on page 2, this claim and the $30 filing fee was receipted for on March 8, 1982, by the Department's employee initialed "CW", whom we have since been advised was Colleen Wray, the secretary/receptionist in the Department's Idaho Falls Office at that time. For reasons unknown, we are informed the Department has no record of this claim which apparently was not assigned an identifying number, published or processed, even though it was filed well before the 1988 cut-off date. .

This claim appears to have been lost and not published or processed by the Department due to neglect or oversight. Accordingly, the Company requests that this claim now be accepted, filed and processed by the Department.

9. The Company has recently been informed by the Department that its records do not reflect the Company's water rights in Devil Creek which are stored in Crowther Reservoir. The Company's water rights in Crowther Reservoir are acknowledged in the remarks which are part of Water Right No. 15-02081, Exhibit C attached. To confirm and clarify the Company's water rights in Devil Creek and Crowther Reservoir, the Company's claimed rights in Crowther Reservoir are set forth in the Department's Form 202 "Application for Permit" attached hereto as Exhibit "E". The place of use is the same described in the "Land List Attachment" attached to the Application for Permit, Exhibit E attached. The Company requests that the Department properly file and process this Application for Permit pertaining to Devil Creek and Crowther Reservoir.

10. The Company will promptly respond to any inquiries and provide such additional information as may be requested by the Department upon filing, review and processing of this Affidavit and the attached exhibits.

Remarks:

The main diversion diverts water into Devil Creek channel which runs into the Devil Creek Reservoir, where the water is stored. Live water and storage water, during irrigation season, is distributed to the stockholders by means of diversion from the company's ditches to the individual owners.

The main diversion, after the water comes out of the reservoir, is what is known as David E. Evans diversion. The next diversion is the Jensen diversion, followed by the D. L. Evans diversion, at which point water is diverted in several directions; one goes to the St. Johns Reservoir and from the reservoir to the company's diversion where water is distributed south to the Robert Hess diversion, where water is distributed in two directions, west to individual ditches approximately 3 miles and south to individual ditches approximately 4½ miles.

Also from the D. L. Evans diversion, water is distributed down the main channel into Crowthers Reservoir. From Crowthers Reservoir, after leaving the reservoir, water is distributed to the west and south; south to Samaria Lane diversion where water is diverted in two directions, west and south.

Also from the D. L. Evans diversion, water is distributed south to the Parry Jones diversion. From Parry Jones diversion, water is distributed on the east side of the old channel to David E. Jones diversion, and South from the Parry Jones diversion to the Harvey Jones diversion, where it is distributed to individual users and also south from Harvey Jones diversion to the Zundel diversion, which is the end of the company ditches.

When referring to the St. John Reservoir and Crowther Reservoir, these are reservoirs owned by Malad Valley Irrigating Company, Inc..
