Barns

This barn and house were built as part of the old Bassett stage coach operation in the 1880's. They ran about eighty head of horses to support their stage coach business from Beaver, Idaho to Fire Hole Basin in Yellowstone Park and tours around the Park. The horses were winter pastured here. There was a second barn but it was torn down and made into something else. This was a stage stop and the house was large to accommodate lodging for coach passengers. Later it became just a farm house.
