Pressurized system, water is pumped from the creek into the sprinkler system. Originally the land was flood irrigated with a ditch diverting the water north of the property. My understanding is that in the 60's, due to mud slides, the Department of Water Resources decided that the diversion needed to be moved. The diversion was moved to the property and a diesel pump was used to pull the water from the creek into the ditches to keep flood irrigating. In 2019 I converted to a pressurized sprinkler system.
