Subject: Application for Transfer 82434 (LCSC Enterprises LLC)

Rob,

We held a prehearing conference for the LCSC applications over a month ago. During the conference, you mentioned that LCSC intended to withdraw Application 82434 because the proposed place of use for that application overlaps the proposed places of use for Applications 84488 and 84490. I recently issued a scheduling order in the consolidated contested case for Applications 84488 and 84490, establishing discovery and expert report deadlines. As the parties prepare discovery responses and expert reports, I think it would be helpful to clean up the record. If LCSC still plans on withdrawing Application 82434, the application should be withdrawn to eliminate any ambiguity in the total irrigated acres and diversion volumes that will be evaluated by the experts. Please let me know if LCSC has changed its plans to withdraw Application 82434.
