Scott,

Don't know how I managed to claim a location so far off. The second image, the one marked "Actual Well Location?" is correct. Thank you for your diligence in identifying this error. Please let me know you received this response and if there is anything else you need from me.

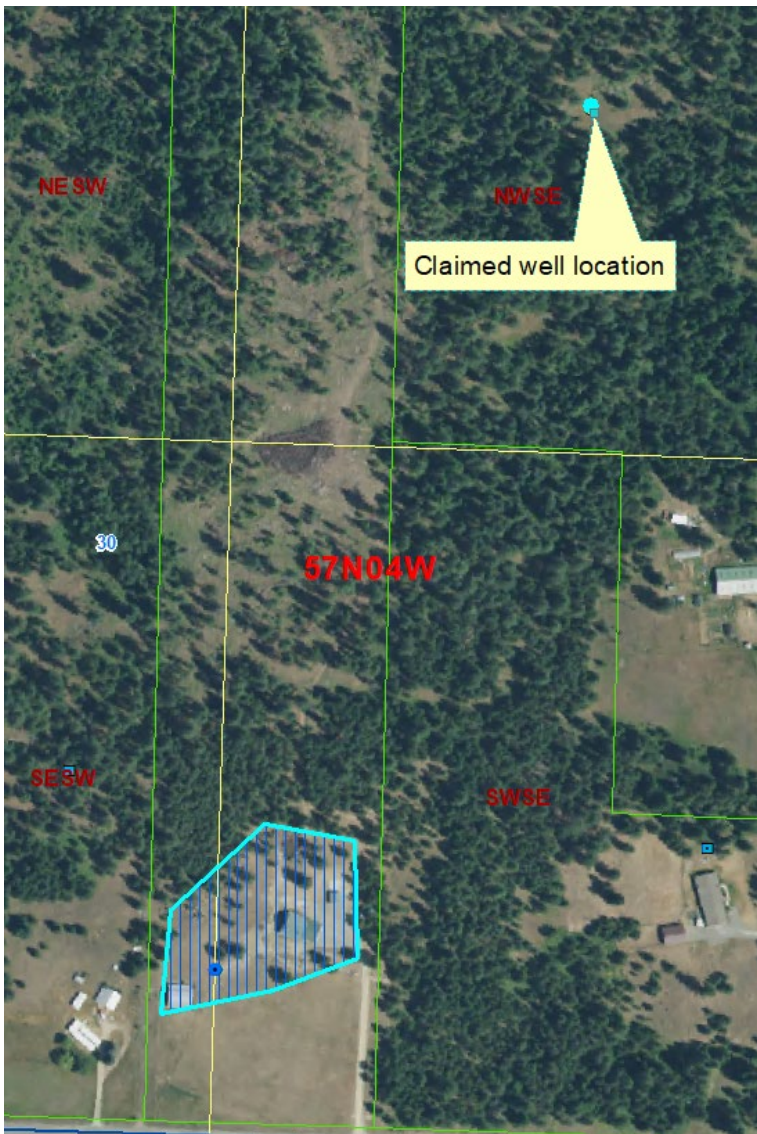

Regards,

Subject: Adjudication claim 97-8135 well location

Brian and Marcy,

I'm reviewing your adjudication claim you submitted and would like you to clarify the location of your well. In the online claim application, you placed the well location in the NWSE quarter-quarter, see below.

From some of the text in your claim, it appears you were trying to claim the well that is closer to your house that was built on 7/13/2000, see below.

Can you confirm which location is correct for the well? Let me know if you have any questions.

Best,
