Misty,

That sounds good. We can recommend the claim as domestic use, which will cover any irrigation of ½ acre or less on your parcel. That should resolve it.

Thank you so much for your expedient emails!

Best,

hey scott,

my husband & i have been chatting about the size of the lawn & areas that are irrigated....we think it's probably about 1/4-1/2 an acre....i'm not sure where the 1 acre came from.

does this help?

Misty,

I've run into a snag on your irrigation claim. I'm being asked for evidence to support the claim of 1 acre of irrigation. Often, we can use historic aerial imagery that shows irrigated acres but your property is heavily forested and any available images are unusable. Do you have any records of the property that would show that 1 acre of lawn has been irrigated since the construction of the cabin? At the very least, a signed affidavit from someone with personal knowledge of the property would work. Let me know if you have any questions and I'll do my best to help get this squared away.

Thanks,

Misty,

I received your amended claim and update your file. One last thing that I'd like to record is where the irrigation is happening. Sometimes it's obvious where this is but with the trees on the property, I'm not able to determine. I've attached two maps; one has my estimate of where the irrigation is occurring (in red). The other is blank incase I'm wrong. Let me know if you agree with my estimation and if you don't, please indicate on the blank map the total area that has been and is currently being irrigated.

Thank you for your efforts.
