John,

A claim can be amended and split apart into separate claims, but those separate claims represent new claims in addition to the one originally filed. You do not need to resubmit the claims, as we will disregard the word "amended" written on the top since they are new claims.

Yes, the required filing fee for each claim as filed is $25.00, for a total of $75.00. Please make the check out to Idaho Department of Water Resources, or IDWR for short.

Thank you.

Hi Evan,

If I understand you correctly, one larger claim cannot be amended into four smaller sub claims?

Our amendment of claim 1443 split that claim (97-9087) into four small de minimis domestic use claims, each being less than 13,000 GPD. These "amended" claims are on four 42-1409-2 forms, one for each dwelling. I wrote Amended on all four claims because the use for each was initially claimed in 1443. The hardcopies that we mailed to IDWR are identical to the pdf copies that we emailed. Do I need to resubmit three of these claims without the "amended" notation and reference to claim 1443 and receipt T113364?

If I understand you correctly we owe $$25 \times 3 = \75 ? Do I make the check payable to IDWR?

Thanks,
John Hawley
