Priority Date Explanation:

This is the licensed priority date. The license was for domestic and irrigation. The spring was originally developed based on the original license. In the 1970s my father and I redeveloped this spring to be used for stock watering into a trough. The stock water use continues today which most likely was also occurring under the domestic portion of the water right. I also drink from the spring continuing the domestic use. The irrigation use is no longer used.
