NARRATIVE

Remington Recreational Water and Sewer District

Statement of Completion Narrative

Site Background

The Remington Recreational Water and Sewer District (the District) is a public water system that currently serves 397 residential connections and is expected to serve 661 connections at system buildout. Refer to Figure 1 on the following page for an overview of the system.

The water facilities on parcel 0-7227-002-019-B include two existing wells (Wells No. 2 and No. 3), one booster station, and one 100,000-gallon reservoir. Well No. 2 was drilled in 1998 and Well No. 1 (Parcel number: 0-7227-002-010-A) was drilled in 1970, and the booster station and reservoir were constructed in 1995. The new well, Well No. 3, was drilled in 2021; due to supply chain issues, the pump was not installed and operational until late winter 2023.

Well No. 3

The new well utilizes a Western Hydro Model FST-9FHC Enclosed Impeller pump and has the option to pump directly to distribution at system pressure or discharge to the existing reservoir on the same site. These controls are pre-set to easily switch between these two options, with the pump being programmed with a pre-set to slow when pumping to the reservoir rather than to pressure. The well pump is equipped with a variable frequency drive. IDEQ's authorization to serve as well as the well log are included in Attachment A.1 and A.2 respectively.

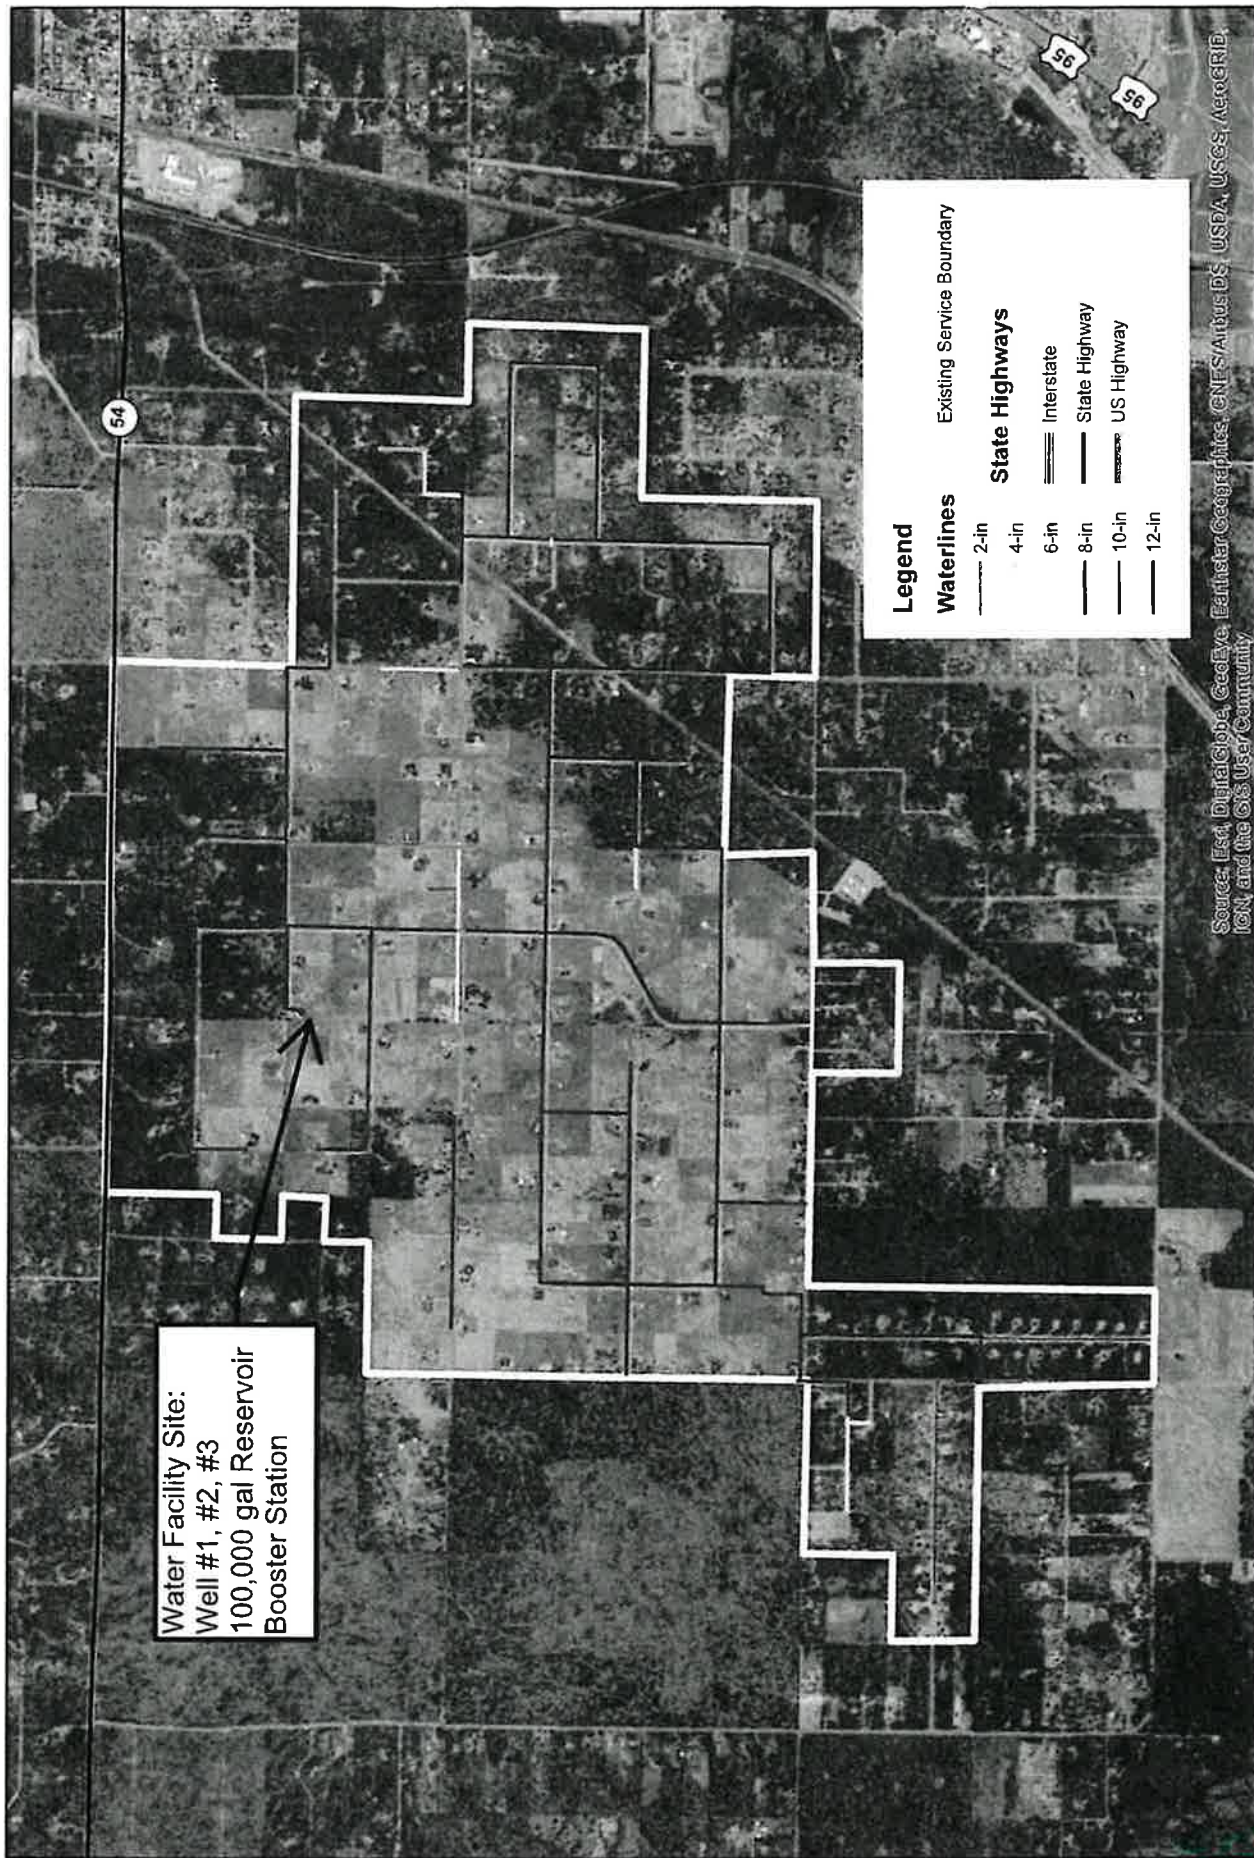

Additional Future Improvements

Future system improvements involve the construction of a partially buried 160,000-gallon reservoir on parcel 0-7227-002-019-B that will contribute to the water storage capacity of the system, with the addition of two new booster pumps inside the existing booster station building. The construction will consist of the 160,000 cast-in-place concrete reservoir, overflow piping, two additional booster pumps (inside the existing building), and connection to the existing system. Well 3 will be able to pump to either the existing or future reservoir.

These improvements provide redundancy and the ability to meet other IDEQ requirements. These improvements are planned for Summer/Fall 2023 and are not intended to significantly impact current beneficial use of the system.

Good Afternoon.

I tried to call the phone number listed on the Statement of Completion for Submitting Proof of Beneficial Use (proof), but the number appears disconnected.

Idaho Department of Water Resources (Department) received your proof with the appropriate $150 fee at our Northern Regional office today. During our initial review, the name of the permit holder listed on the proof, Remington Recreational Water and Sewer District, differs from that of the Water Permit (permit), Remington Water District. Are Remington Recreational Water and Sewer District and Remington Water District the same entity?

Please let the department know if the entities are the same and provide an updated phone number for our records.

Thank you.
