REMARKS

1. Use the official daily record book. Do not use substitutes. If you prefer to record notes in another text, transcribe to the daily record book immediately.
2. Use a separate daily record book for each stream you administer. Do not mix the users of several streams into one daily record.
3. If the water being delivered is measured and the headgate set on a particular day, record the flow in cubic feet per second in the proper grid space. If water diverted at a particular diversion is not measured on a given day, but you believe that water continues to be delivered without a change in the flow or headgate setting, place an "A" in the grid space for that day. The "A" represents that the previous flow and headgate setting is "assumed." An "A" must always be preceded by an actual numerical flow rate.
4. If the water being delivered is not actually measured, enter an "E" in the fraction portion of the grid space for the particular day that the flow rate is estimated. An "E" should always follow an estimated numerical flow that is observed and set in the field.
5. If water is not being delivered, enter a "0" (zero) in the proper grid space. If the water right is cut off because of unavailability of water, a zero may be entered in the grid space corresponding to the day the right could no longer be satisfied, and all subsequent days when water is not deliverable may be designated with a horizontal line through the grids that represent the days of nondelivery.
6. A blank grid space means that the watermaster has no knowledge of the amount of water being delivered on that day. A grid should never be blank while the watermaster is delivering water.
7. If possible, please list the water right no. in the daily record rather than a number assigned by the district or by the decree. Future users of the records will likely look for a water right reference.
8. Record unusual or noteworthy happenings. For instance, if a senior downstream right holder's water right is no longer available because the creek dries up upstream, and junior upstream rightholders are allowed to divert remaining water upstream, this event should be recorded on the day it happens.

1. Use the official daily record book. Do not use substitutes. If you prefer to record notes in another text, transcribe to the daily record book immediately.
2. Use a separate daily record book for each stream you administer. Do not mix the users of several streams into one daily record.
3. If the water being delivered is measured and the headgate set on a particular day, record the flow in cubic feet per second in the proper grid space. If water diverted at a particular diversion is not measured on a given day, but you believe that water continues to be delivered without a change in the flow or headgate setting, place an "A" in the grid space for that day. The "A" represents that the previous flow and headgate setting is "assumed." An "A" must always be preceded by an actual numerical flow rate.
4. If the water being delivered is not actually measured, enter an "E" in the fraction portion of the grid space for the particular day that the flow rate is estimated. An "E" should always follow an estimated numerical flow that is observed and set in the field.
5. If water is not being delivered, enter a "0" (zero) in the proper grid space. If the water right is cut off because of unavailability of water, a zero may be entered in the grid space corresponding to the day the right could no longer be satisfied, and all subsequent days when water is not deliverable may be designated with a horizontal line through the grids that represent the days of nondelivery.
6. A blank grid space means that the watermaster has no knowledge of the amount of water being delivered on that day. A grid should never be blank while the watermaster is delivering water.
7. If possible, please list the water right no. in the daily record rather than a number assigned by the district or by the decree. Future users of the records will likely look for a water right reference.
8. Record unusual or noteworthy happenings. For instance, if a senior downstream right holder's water right is no longer available because the creek dries up upstream, and junior upstream rightholders are allowed to divert remaining water upstream, this event should be recorded on the day it happens.
