RE: WATER DISTRICT NO. 67

Dear Mr. Lolley:

I received your March 20, 2017 letter regarding activities of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("IDWR") in the Weiser River Basin. In your letter you express the frustration of water users due to either a perceived lack of action or a lack of communication by Nick Miller ("Miller"), Manager of IDWR's Western Region. You asked whether "IDWR is intending to follow through with the promises made by Mr. Miller" and whether there will be anyone at IDWR responsible for working with Water District 67 ("water district"). I conclude from your letter and from the 2017 annual meeting minutes that the users in the water district have lost confidence in Miller's willingness to assist the water district.

I asked Miller to explain circumstances that may have prompted your letter. I also asked Miller to recommend how to respond. As I understand the facts, Miller previously committed to continuing efforts begun by his predecessors in 2015. In particular, he described a previously presented plan to issue a measurement and control order as a component of a longer-term plan to develop a modern, computer-based water delivery accounting system. Miller intended to issue the order in 2016 with compliance expected by the start of the 2017 season.

It is not abnormal for a water measurement and administration schedule to be delayed by competing priorities. Nonetheless, I am troubled by the apparent lack of communication between the water district and Miller regarding the delay and the consternation over the delay. This lack of communication contributed to the perception that Miller had abandoned his efforts to assist the water district. I asked Miller to redouble his efforts to communicate with the water district. I trust that he will work to mend his relationship with the water district and support the water district. I will monitor Miller's relationship with and support of the water district.

I am concerned that broadly committing IDWR resources to goals that are not clearly defined would create unrealistic expectations. Both IDWR and the water district have limited resources, so it is important that activities to advance or improve the water district do not create unanticipated or unnecessary burdens on either entity. I would like to invite the watermaster and advisory committee to a meeting to set specific and realistic goals for the water district, and to commit appropriate IDWR and water district resources to achieving those goals. I will ask my assistant to contact you to arrange a place and time for the meeting.

Thank you for taking the time to write to me with your concerns. I look forward to meeting with you in the near future.

Sincerely,

Re: Order Requiring Measuring Devices and Headgates in Water District 67

Dear Water User,

The Idaho Department of Water Resources ("Department") has issued the enclosed final order requiring installation of measuring devices and controlling works for certain diversions of surface water in Water District 67 ("WD67"), Weiser River and Tributaries. Pursuant to Idaho Code § 42-1701A(3), any person aggrieved by the final order may, within fifteen days after receipt of written notice of the order or receipt of actual notice, file with the Director of the Department a written petition stating the grounds for contesting the order and requesting a hearing.

The final order has been sent to all water right holders in WD67, but it primarily affects holders of water rights that divert water from the Weiser River, Crane Creek, Lost Creek, and Mill Creek. The final order requires diversions from these streams to be equipped with controlling works and measuring devices at the point where the water is diverted from the stream. Diversions from these streams must be controlled and measured before diverting water for the 2018 irrigation season. The final order excludes small diversions for irrigation uses less than or equal to 5 acres and non-irrigation uses with a total rate of diversion less than or equal to 0.24 cfs (approximately 108 gallons per minute).

Please refer to the enclosed document "Minimum Acceptable Standards and Requirements for Open Channel and Closed Conduit Measuring Devices" for information on types of measuring devices acceptable to the Department. This document and other information on the topic is available on the Department's Internet site at the following address: <https://idwr.idaho.gov/water-data/water-measurement/>

Additionally, users are encouraged to attend a water measurement workshop to be held by the Department on December 18, 2017, 6 pm, at the Washington County Fairgrounds Exhibit Hall, Cambridge, Idaho. The workshop will provide additional information on requirements for controlling works and measuring devices.

If you have questions concerning this order, please contact Nick Miller at the Department's Western regional Office (208-334-2190), or contact the WD67 watermaster, Brandi Horton-Bonner (208-550-0313).

Respectfully,

Tim Luke

CONTROLLING WORKS

The Director ("Director") of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("Department") finds, concludes, and orders as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Water District No. 67 ("WD67"), through a watermaster, administers the waters of the Weiser River and surface water tributaries, with the exception of the Little Weiser River and its tributaries, which is administered by Water District No. 67A. The watermaster, under supervision of the Director, administers water rights by reading measuring devices and adjusting headgates or other controlling works to deliver the authorized flow rate to water right holders. The watermaster also delivers stored water from reservoirs to points of delivery via the Weiser River and certain tributaries. Points of diversion and points of delivery from the Weiser River and certain tributaries must have adequate measurement and control devices for the watermaster to adequately administer water rights and deliver stored water in WD67.
2. WD67 covers an area of nearly 1,500 square miles. Over 1,300 water rights divert from sources under control of the watermaster.
3. During most years, the water supply in WD67 is insufficient to satisfy all water rights, and the watermaster must regulate junior-priority rights to satisfy senior-priority rights.
4. The watermaster conveys stored water from Lost Valley Reservoir and Crane Creek Reservoir in the natural channels of the Weiser River, Lost Creek, and Crane Creek to points of delivery from the Weiser River, Lost Creek, and Crane Creek. The stored water is commingled with the natural flow of the Weiser River, Lost Creek, and Crane Creek.
5. The Department previously issued measurement and control orders for several tributary creeks in WD67, including Hornet Creek (1995 and 2009), Monroe Creek (1995), Pine Creek (2013), and Rush Creek (1987 and 2001). These orders remain in effect.

6. The Department has not previously issued measurement and control orders to holders of water rights authorizing diversion of water from the Weiser River, although court decrees dating back to 1917 required installation and maintenance of measurement devices and controlling works on some diversions.

7. The WD67 watermaster, the advisory committee, and some water users requested that the Department require measurement devices to obtain accurate diversion measurements and to facilitate recordkeeping and promote more accurate water delivery.

LEGAL PROVISIONS

1. Section 42-701, Idaho Code, provides in pertinent part:

42-701 INSTALLATION AND MAINTENANCE OF CONTROLLING WORKS AND MEASURING DEVICES BY WATER APPROPRIATORS – PROCEDURE UPON FAILURE TO INSTALL AND MAINTAIN – MEASURING AND REPORTING OF DIVERSIONS – PENALTY FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY – REPORT FILING FEE.

(1) The appropriators or users of any public waters of the state of Idaho shall maintain to the satisfaction of the director of the department of water resources suitable headgates and controlling works at the point where the water is diverted. Each device shall be of such construction that it can be locked and kept closed by the watermaster or other officer in charge, and shall also be of such construction as to regulate the flow of water at the diversion point. Each such appropriator shall construct and maintain, when required by the director of the department of water resources, a rating flume or other measuring device at such point as is most practical in such canal, ditch, wellhead or pipeline for the purpose of assisting the watermaster or department in determining the amount of water that may be diverted into said canal, ditch, wellhead or pipeline from the stream, well or other source of public water. Plans for such headgates, rating flumes or other measuring devices shall be approved by the department of water resources.

(2) If an appropriator determines that installation and maintenance of a measuring device required by the director would be burdensome for his diversion, the appropriator may, upon approval of the director, execute an agreement with the director and submit to the director such information and technical data concerning the diversion and pumping facilities as the director determines necessary to establish the relationship of power usage to water withdrawal by any pump used to divert public water.

(3) Any appropriator or user of the public waters of the state of Idaho that neglects or refuses to construct or maintain such headgates, controlling works, or measuring devices..., upon receiving ten (10) days' notice from the director of the department of water resources within which to begin and diligently pursue to completion the construction or installation of the required device or devices or to begin and diligently pursue to completion a remedy to such defects as exist in accordance with said notice, then the director of the department of water resources may order the duly qualified and acting watermaster of the water district to shut off and refuse to deliver at the point of diversion, the water owned by such appropriator or user until the user does construct and maintain such headgates, controlling works or measuring devices or remedy the defects which exist or the director may take action pursuant to section 42-1701B, Idaho Code, to enforce the requirement to construct, install or maintain such devices.

(4) The appropriators or users of the public waters of the state of Idaho shall be given a reasonable time within which to complete construction of such headgates, controlling works or measuring devices, depending upon the size and extent thereof, when due diligence has been used in the prosecution of such work.

2. Section 42-801, Idaho Code, provides in pertinent part:

42-801. CONVEYANCE OF STORED WATER THROUGH NATURAL CHANNEL — APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL DEPUTY AND ASSISTANTS.

Whenever the owner of a reservoir shall desire to use the bed of a stream, or a natural water course, for the purpose of carrying stored water, he shall in writing notify the department of water resources, giving the date when it is proposed to discharge the water, its volume in acre feet, and in cubic feet per second at the point of discharge, and the persons and ditches entitled to its use. The department shall then appoint a special deputy, unless a state watermaster has already been appointed to deliver the waters from said stream, in which event the appointed watermaster and his assistants may be instructed to make the delivery of the stored water without further appointment, whose duty it shall be to adjust the headgates of all ditches not entitled to the stored water, and in such manner that those having the right to the use of such water shall secure the volume to which they are entitled. For the purpose of delivering such stored water the deputy appointed by the department of water resources may employ such number of assistants as, with the approval of the department, he may deem necessary. The owner of any reservoir proceeding under the provisions of this section shall pay to the special deputy and to each assistant a salary as determined by the director of the department of water resources, or a salary and expenses as negotiated with the owner of the said stored water and approved by the director of the department of water resources, or pay to the water district, if there is one, a sum based upon the cost of delivering a unit of water. Said charge by the water district will be determined and collected in the same manner as prescribed in chapter 6, title 42, Idaho Code, for compensating the watermaster for delivery of natural flow water.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. The Director has statutory authority to require the installation and maintenance of measuring devices and controlling works by water users at the point of delivery for their water rights from the public waters of Idaho.

2. The WD67 watermaster is responsible for delivering storage water to points of delivery via natural channels of the Weiser River and tributaries.

3. Adequate measurement and control of diversions from streams with commingled natural flow and storage water is necessary to protect senior priority water right holders.

4. Measurement and control of diversions is necessary in WD67 for proper distribution of water and administration of water rights. Measurement of diversions creates the following administrative benefits:

- i. Ability to regulate diversions within the water district to deliver water to the most senior priority rights during times of water scarcity or shortages, thereby protecting senior priority rights;
- ii. Ability to regulate diversion of commingled storage water within the water district, thereby protecting rights to natural flow waters;
- iii. Assurance that water rights are exercised within their authorized diversion limits; and
- iv. Accurate determination of water user assessments because Idaho law requires that the expenses of the water district be based on water delivery.

5. The Director should require the installation of measuring devices and controlling works within WD67.

ORDER

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED AS FOLLOWS:

1. Except as exempted below, the holders of water rights in WD67 authorizing diversion of water from the following water sources shall install on each point of diversion a measuring device and lockable controlling works of a type acceptable to the Department for the purpose of assisting the watermaster in measuring and reporting the amount of water withdrawn from each diversion, and controlling the amount of water at each diversion.

- The Weiser River above the Galloway Dam, including the East, West, and Middle Forks of the Weiser River.
- Crane Creek and tributaries below and including Crane Creek Reservoir.
- Lost Creek and tributaries below and including Lost Valley Reservoir.
- Mill Creek and tributaries.

2. Points of diversion for water rights authorizing irrigation of five (5) acres or less and/or non-irrigation uses in which the total rate of diversion is 0.24 cfs or less are exempt from the measuring device requirements of this order¹, unless the Department determines at some future date that measuring devices and controlling works for such exempted points of diversion are necessary.

3. Measuring devices and controlling works shall be installed and functional prior to diverting water during the 2018 irrigation season unless the Department has granted an exemption, deferral, or extension as described in items 7 and 8 below.

4. Measuring devices acceptable to the Department are listed in the Department's Minimum Acceptable Standards and Requirements for Open Channel and Closed Conduit Measuring Devices (copy attached). These specifications apply to both irrigation and non-irrigation water uses.

¹ A common point of diversion used for multiple irrigation rights where each individual right is five (5) acres or less must be measured and controlled if the sum of the irrigated acres under the rights exceeds five (5) acres. A common point of diversion serving multiple non-irrigation uses must be measured if the total diversion rate is greater than 0.24 cfs.

5. Under limited circumstances, a variance of the standard measuring devices listed in the Department's Minimum Acceptable Standards and Requirements for Open Channel and Closed Conduit Measuring Devices may be considered upon submittal of a written justification and plan to the watermaster who will consult with the Department to determine whether a variance is acceptable. Acceptable variances may include the following methods or devices:

- Use of an hour meter (time clock), for qualifying diversions only, usually in-stream electric pumps that operate at a consistent rate of flow;
- For closed conduit diversions, use of an acceptable non-standard flow meter that was installed prior to the date of this order.

6. Requests for variance of the measurement method must be received by the watermaster by January 16, 2018, and will be considered by the watermaster and the Department on a case-by-case basis. Variances proposing utilization of an existing flow meter must satisfy the Department's criteria and accuracy tests. Existing meters which do not satisfy standards, or which fail, must be replaced with a standard flow meter unless another variance is obtained.

7. In some situations, the Department may exempt a diversion from the requirements of this order or may allow deferred compliance for a diversion. Requests for exemption or deferral must be received by the watermaster by January 16, 2018, and will be considered by the watermaster and the Department on a case-by-case basis. Conditions that may result in exemption or deferral include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Abandonment, non-use, or consolidation of diversions that results in a diversion being unused, or reduces the total diversion rate to 0.24 cfs or less and/or irrigation of five (5) acres or less.
- Prohibitive physical conditions, water usage or availability conditions, or any other condition that precludes meaningful water measurement.
- Delays caused by requirements of other government entities.

8. If a user cannot comply with the deadline in item 3 above, the Department may grant an extension of time for the diversion to be brought into compliance. Requests for extensions must be received by the watermaster before January 16, 2018. Requests for extensions will be considered by the watermaster and the Department on a case-by-case basis.

9. Diversions in WD67 from sources not listed in item 1 above are either already subject to existing measurement and control orders that remain in effect, or are on tributary sources not yet regulated by the watermaster. The Department may individually notify other water right holders diverting water from those sources to install or replace measuring devices and controlling works on or before a date specified by the Department.

10. This order shall be effective immediately on any new diversion(s) authorized after the date of this order, except water right diversions used for irrigation of five (5) acres or less and/or for non-irrigation uses in which the total authorized rate of diversion is 0.24 cfs or less unless the Department determines at some future date that measuring devices and controlling works are necessary.

11. The WD67 watermaster shall shut off and refuse to deliver water to any diversion affected by this order that does not have an adequate, functioning measuring device and/or lockable controlling works at any and all times following the start of the 2018 irrigation season, unless an extension, exemption, or deferral has been granted by the Department.

12. Pursuant to Idaho Code § 42-1701A(3), any person aggrieved by this final order may, within fifteen days after receipt of written notice of the order or receipt of actual notice, file with the Director a written petition stating the grounds for contesting the order and requesting a hearing.

Dated this 30th day of November 2017.

STATE OF IDAHO DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES (IDWR)

MINIMUM ACCEPTABLE STANDARDS AND REQUIREMENTS FOR OPEN CHANNEL AND CLOSED CONDUIT
MEASURING DEVICES

The water source, diversion structure and conveyance system must be adequately evaluated prior to selection of a measuring device. Surface water sources such as streams, springs and drains are commonly diverted into open channels, ditches or canals. Closed conduits such as pipes or culverts are also used to convey surface water. Ground water is more commonly diverted into pipes (closed conduits) which convey water from the well to system discharge points such as irrigation sprinkler systems. Ground water may also discharge from a well through a short section of pipe to open channels, ditches or ponds. When required by IDWR, measuring devices must be installed at or very near the point of diversion to ensure the watermaster can accurately determine the amount of water diverted from the public water source. The standards below are intended to qualify measuring devices that are “acceptable to the Department”, and to assist water users and watermasters in the proper selection and installation of such devices when required pursuant to Section 42-701, Idaho Code.

I. MEASUREMENT IN OPEN CHANNELS

The following requirements are applicable to diversions from surface water sources. Measurement of a ground water diversion with an open channel measuring device must be specifically approved by IDWR.

A. Industry Standard Open Channel Measuring Devices

All open channel surface water diversions must be measured using one of the following industry standard (standard) open channel flow measuring devices:

- Weirs: contracted or suppressed rectangular weirs, Cipolletti weir, 90 degree V-notch weir
- Flumes: Parshall flume, trapezoidal flume, ramped flume (ramped, broad-crested weir)
- Submerged Orifices: submerged rectangular orifice, constant head orifice
- Current Meter/Acoustic Profiler: acoustic Doppler flow meter (ADFM), acoustic Doppler current profiler

Construction, installation and operation of these devices must be consistent with water measurement guidelines, published by the United States Bureau of Reclamation¹ or the United States Geological Survey². Measuring devices, associated rating tables and specifications contained in these publications are considered by IDWR to be industry standard.

B. Non-Standard Open Channel Devices Including Rated Structures or Rated Sections

Any weir, flume or other measuring device that has not been constructed, installed or maintained to measure flow consistent with industry standard rating tables or curves shall be considered non-standard. IDWR may authorize the use of non-standard devices or rated channel sections on a case by case basis, upon the submittal and approval of a measurement plan. A measurement plan must contain an acceptable proposal, using industry standard procedures for developing a rating curve, or document that a rating curve has been fully developed for the device or section. Proposed rating plans must include provisions for periodic re-measurement and maintenance of the rating. The established rating must achieve the desired accuracy standard of plus or minus ten percent ($\pm 10\%$), the equivalent accuracy of a standard open channel device. All rating measurements must be conducted by a qualified individual (eg. engineer, hydrologist, certified examiner), using a standard portable open channel measuring device. If a measurement plan is not approved by IDWR, a standard device must be installed and maintained.

II. CLOSED CONDUIT MEASURING DEVICES

The following requirements are applicable to measurement of diversions from any water source that conveys water through a full pipe or conduit. Full pipe means that water within the pipe is under at least some positive pressure and contains insignificant amounts of air or gas.

A. Standard Closed Conduit Measuring Devices

Standard closed conduit measuring devices are flow meters that have been approved for use by IDWR based on independent third party testing. IDWR has developed and published a list of meters that have been tested and approved for use³. Tests were conducted for both accuracy and repeatability on all submitted models. The lab tested accuracy standard for flow rate is plus or minus two percent ($\pm 2\%$). The IDWR List of Approved Closed Conduit Flow Meters (approved list) may be found at: <https://idwr.idaho.gov/files/water-measurement/approved-flow-meter-list.pdf>

Approved full profile magnetic flow meters and spooled ultrasonic flow meters must be installed with a minimum straight pipe length equivalent of three (3) pipe diameters upstream and two (2) pipe diameters downstream measured from the center of the meter spool. Approved clamp-on and wetted ultrasonic flow meter transducers must be located with a minimum straight pipe equivalent of ten (10) pipe diameters upstream and five (5) pipe diameters downstream of the nearest transducer. All other manufacturer installation specifications (excepting up and down spacing) must be met. Installation of an approved meter inconsistent with the requirements noted above, may be cause for IDWR to require reinstallation of the meter.

B. Requests for Variance to Use Power Consumption, Hour Meter or Existing Meter

Requests for variance will be considered for qualifying diversions on a case by case basis only upon submittal of the appropriate "Request for Variance" form. If a water user can demonstrate that an existing flow meter or other method of measurement meets an equal standard of accuracy when compared to meters on the approved list, a variance may be granted. If a variance request is not granted, an approved meter will be required.

The following alternate measurement methods may be considered:

- Development of a Power Consumption Coefficient (PCC), which is a ratio of power usage to water withdrawal,
- Use of an hour meter (time clock), or
- Use of a flow meter that was installed prior to the date a measurement order was issued and is not on the IDWR approved list.

Any alternate measurement method will require field testing using a portable ultrasonic flow meter or other meter tested and accepted by IDWR (testing meter). Field testing may be performed by any of the following:

- IDWR staff,
- a water district watermaster,
- a ground water district hydrographer,
- an irrigation district hydrographer,
- a certified field examiner, or
- as otherwise approved by IDWR

Existing flow meters must be operational and installed consistent with applicable specifications. If the testing margin of error of an installed meter when compared to the testing meter exceeds plus or minus ten percent ($\pm 10\%$) for mechanical type meters, or plus or minus five percent ($\pm 5\%$) for magnetic or ultrasonic type meters, the installed meter must be replaced with a new meter from the approved list. The owner or operator of any diversion system which requires a field measurement must provide a testing section of unobstructed straight pipe 15 pipe diameters in length.

³ Testing was conducted at the Utah Water Research Laboratory (UWRL), a National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) traceable lab in Logan, Utah.

Substitute Watermaster; Jerry Myers

Brandi mentioned that Gordon's health is preventing him from continuing with his position. She has had no luck in finding a replacement and recommends we advertise. Robert Bumgarner mentioned that Milton Ward may do the job and recommend for her to visit with him about it. Brandi will talk to Mr. Ward before advertising for the position. Jacque Wray asked what Bruce Gochmour did for the District. Brandi said she was told by Nick Miller from Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR) he handled the Lower Crane. Jacque said that he did not, that she gets the calls on the Lower Crane and maybe Brandi, Nick and Credentials Committee needs to get together to determine who actually works in the capacity of a watermaster's assistant for the district.

Harmon Horton so moved, Robert Bumgarner 2nd, motion carried to have a meeting to address this question.

Roy Braun moved to keep same committee, Harmon Horton 2nd, motion carried.

Budget- presented by Brandi Bonner. In discussion of the budget, Harmon Horton mentioned that the difference between 2016 and 2017 upcoming revenues must be the result of the unassessed shares that the Watermaster found after the re-adjudication was finished. Jacque Wray said that she would have liked advance warning because their assessment increased greatly from what had been previously assessed. Terry Horton pointed out that it was moved and passed at the 2016 meeting that the previously unassessed shares would be added to the assessments, although it was not known at the time what the exact numbers would be. Harmon Horton mentioned that Middle Valley Ditch got hit too but was expecting an increase due to last year's meeting.

Further discussion concerning the budget led to Jacque Wray bringing up that when the Watermaster submits her annual report, nothing below Midvale has representation and why is that? Brandi said that Nick Miller told her not to change the way water usage has always been reported in the district, because he was going to design a new reporting system. As of yet that has not happened and she is doing what she was directed to do but did agree that they need representation.

Robert Bumgarner asked if we should write a letter to Idaho Water Users Association about not getting voicing the district's concern about the lack of action on the part of Nick and IDWR. Paul Striker asked who is Nick Miller. Brandi explained that he is the IDWR-Western Region Director.

Jacque Wray asked why the savings account is going down and where is that money being spent. Terry Horton explained that she has had to tap it to pay the bills. The money is collected through the taxing system and not everybody pays their taxes on time. They can be three years in arrears before they have to pay anything, so some of the money received through the years has been as far back as 2013. It's just how the system works. But do to Brandi having found the unassessed shares, the two checks that came in January from the counties were the most Terry has seen since she took the job of Secretary/Treasurer in 2006 and probably won't have to touch the savings this year. Jacque asked about sending out our own assessments. Terry said she would have to be paid a lot more than she is making now and it could become very costly because of the amount of share-holders there are in the two counties. Vernon Lolley said that if we did the budget would go up considerably; not just mailings but if we came up against not being able to collect and had to have legal representation to collect and so-forth, that could get very expensive for the district. Harmon said it needs to stay with being collected through the taxing system because the county already has legal representation. Robert Bumgarner asked who we would write a letter to, to get better representation out of Nick Miller with the Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR). Harmon said to start with Gary Spackman the head of IDWR. Robert Bumgarner moved to have Terry Horton and Brandi Bonner compose a letter to Gary Spackman, Jacque Wray 2nd, motion carried. Jacque volunteered her help in the matter if need. Harmon Horton moved to accept the budget as presented with the assessments remaining the same, Robert Bumgarner 2nd, motion carried.

OLD BUSINESS:

Harmon Horton asked what had happened with the letter about the measuring devices and lockable head-gates that was supposed to come out of Nick last year? Brandi explained that nothing had come of it, and when she spoke with Nick on the phone before the meeting, he said he was hoping to get around to them soon. Harmon said in the letter you write to Mr. Spackman maybe we need to address this issue too. Vernon Lolley said that when this letter is written a copy needs to be sent to Nick Miller so that he is not blindsided.

NEW BUSINESS:

Idaho Department of Water Resources- no representation present.

Request for monies to be collected-

Harmon Horton moved to ask Washington and Adams counties to continue collecting and dispersing the monies through the taxing system, Jacque Wray 2nd, motion carried.

Set next meeting date- Terry said the next first Monday in February 2018 is on the 5th. Paul Striker moved to set February 5th, 2018 for next meeting in Cambridge at the US Bank Community Room at 1:00 pm, Jacque Wray 2nd, motion carried.

Todd Nelson asked what determines water shut down. Brandi told him it was done by priority dates. He mentioned the East Fork ditch. He was told that the Watermaster's jurisdiction stops at the diversion point where the water leaves the river to the ditch companies.
