CERTIFICATION OF TRUST ATTACHMENT

58a-1012. Protection of person dealing with trustee.

- (a) A person other than a beneficiary who in good faith assists a trustee, or who in good faith and for value deals with a trustee, without knowledge that the trustee is exceeding or improperly exercising the trustee's powers is protected from liability as if the trustee properly exercised the power.
- (b) A person other than a beneficiary who in good faith deals with a trustee is not required to inquire into the extent of the trustee's powers or the propriety of their exercise.
- (c) A person who in good faith delivers assets to a trustee need not ensure their proper application.
- (d) A person other than a beneficiary who in good faith assists a former trustee, or who in good faith and for value deals with a former trustee, without knowledge that the trusteeship has terminated is protected from liability as if the former trustee were still a trustee.
- (e) Comparable protective provisions of other laws relating to commercial transactions or transfer of securities by fiduciaries prevail over the protection provided by this section.

58a-1013. Certification of trust. (a) Instead of furnishing a copy of the trust instrument to a person other than a qualified beneficiary, the trustee may furnish to the person an acknowledged certification of trust containing the following information: (1) That the trust exists and the date the trust instrument was executed; (2) the identity of the settlor; (3) the identity and address of the currently acting trustee; (4) the powers of the trustee; (5) the revocability or irrevocability of the trust and the identity of any person holding a power to revoke the trust; (6) the authority of cotrustees to sign or otherwise authenticate and whether all or less than all are required in order to exercise powers of the trustee; and (7) the manner of taking title to trust property. (b) A certification of trust may be signed or otherwise authenticated by any trustee. (c) A certification of trust must state that the trust has not been revoked, modified, or amended in any manner that would cause the representations contained in the certification of trust to be incorrect. (d) A certification of trust need not contain the dispositive terms of a trust. (e) A recipient of a certification of trust may require the trustee to furnish copies of those excerpts from the original trust instrument and later amendments which designate the trustee and confer upon the trustee the power to act in the pending transaction. (f) A person who acts in reliance upon a certification of trust without knowledge that the representations contained therein are incorrect is not liable to any person for so acting and may assume without inquiry the existence of the facts contained in the certification. Knowledge of the terms of the trust may not be inferred solely from the fact that a copy of all or part of the trust instrument is held by the person relying upon the certification. (g) A person who in good faith enters into a transaction in reliance upon a certification of trust may enforce the transaction against the trust property as if the representations contained in the certification were correct. (h) A person making a demand for the trust instrument in addition to a certification of trust or excerpts is liable for damages if the court determines that the person did not act in good faith in demanding the trust instrument. (i) This section does not limit the right of a person to obtain a copy of the trust instrument in a judicial proceeding concerning the trust.

RE: Incomplete Application for Permit for Domestic Use

L. Jean Prouty Revocable Trust:

On July 11, 2022, IDWR received your application for permit that was incomplete. The only information on the original application was contact info and well info. None of the required elements for a new water appropriation were submitted. I reached out to you in September to discuss the application and we got most of the required information for the application, and a more complete application was emailed to you on October 12, 2022.

The application sent through email was never fully completed, signed nor returned to the department with the appropriate processing fee. It is for these reasons that your original application is being returned, along with the application and map that was emailed to you. If you wish to continue the application process, complete the included application and review the accompanying email for instructions.

Please submit the completed application by April 30, 2024. If IDWR does not receive the completed application, we will record it as withdrawn.

My contact information is listed below. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions. Thank you for your attention to these matters.

Sincerely,

Hi Jean,

Attached is an updated application for the permit you are applying for. The application is still incomplete, as you will need to answer questions 10 through 13 on the second page of the attached application. Also, please review all other information that I have added for accuracy. I have also included a map of the property that I believe you are applying for, but you will need to confirm that the property is correct and are required to indicate where the point of diversion is (where the well is located) and where the place of use is (where the house is located). Once the application is complete and the map indicates the proper elements listed, you can sign the application and send it back to me through email or mail it back to the department's office.

If you have questions, please give me a call or send me an email.

Thanks,
