H. NARRATIVE/REMARKS/COMMENTSThis permit qualifies for in-house beneficial use examination because the total quantity is less than 0.24 cfs.The permit was approved Feb 21, 2019 and proof was submitted October 5, 2020. A letter was sent August 24, 2021 requesting a copy of the Special Use Permit and confirmation of POD location. Mr. Riedle responded to the request September 30, 2021, in a letter that included the Special Use Permit and an aerial map indicating the POD location.The address on the Statement of Completion matched the permit. During the licensing review, the mailing address on the Idaho County Assessor's Office website appeared to be different than what the Department has on record. During a phone conversation on August 29, 2023, Mr. Riedle explained that he moved and he had a new address. A Change in Address form was mailed to Mr. and Mrs. Riedle to update their address for this water right.This permit is for domestic use from a spring. The POD is located approximately 30 feet away from the home as indicated by Mr. Riedle on an aerial map around his parcel. The spring box uses a line to the home for domestic use.Aerial imagery shows two structures where the permit POU is located. In a call with the permit holder on August 29, 2023, Mr. Riedle explained that the cabin is closest to the spring and the other structure in aerial imagery is a carport. The POU was updated to indicate the home as there are multiple homes/cabins in the area.No measurements were taken as this permit qualified for an in-house examination. Application Processing Memo No. 22 recommends a standard rate of 0.04 cfs for single homes. IDAPA Rule 35 section j describes "domestic" as not requiring a volume. A volume is not recommended for this license because the use is from a stream and volumes are typically not assigned to surface water sources. Beneficial Use Rules exempt volume reporting for domestic uses defined by 42-111 and conditions of the permit limited the domestic use to 13,000 gpd so the exemption still applies.Mr. Riedle sent a copy of his Special Use Permit which complied with Condition 939. It is recommended that this condition be dropped at licensing as it was complied with. Condition 26A is a condition that the Department no longer uses so it is recommended that this condition be dropped at licensing. Condition 199 requires a lockable device upon notification and the Department has not notified so a lockable device is not yet required. This condition will follow through to licensing. Condition 121 was updated to 103. Condition 071 was updated to N13 to reflect total quantity instead of "per home." It is recommended that the other conditions also follow through to licensing.Have conditions of permit approval been met? ☒ Yes ☐ NoI. RECOMMENDATIONS

RE: In-House Field Exam for 77-14368

Dear Permit Holders:

I was assigned to process your Permit to Appropriate Water (permit) so it can get licensed. The permit is eligible for an in-house beneficial use examination. I do need a few items from you if you could provide them for me:

1. The exact location of where the spring water is being diverted from. This can be done on a map, but if you could provide GPS coordinates that would be fantastic.
 - a. I've included a map with this letter so that you can draw the exact location on it and return it to me.
2. Any pictures of the spring box or distribution system would be helpful.
3. A copy of the short-term permit from the USFS.

I appreciate your assistance with getting the above information. I've attached a copy of your Permit to Appropriate Water for reference. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me at Shilynn.Novak@idwr.idaho.gov or by calling my direct line at (208) 287-4915.

Sincerely,

Howdy Kate,

Thank you for working on this.

Couple of thoughts: So, if I understand correctly, the Permit to appropriate water (No. 77-14368), is the official water right. With that, we can begin working on the new authorization (as identified in my emails with Justin), essentially approving their authorization for infrastructure on NFS lands for the remainder of the 30 year term.

However, we are currently extremely short-staffed. Myself and one other (of our 3-person team) have accepted and started new positions. The remaining member of our team is on a detail assignment that stretches into December. Therefore, the earliest anyone would be able to address this is early spring 2021. Do you see a problem with this timeline?

Let us know your thoughts when you can, thanks.

Adam

Subject: Water Right Processing 77-14340

Hi Adam,

I am currently working on processing Permit No. 77-14340 over to a license.

This permit has Condition 939 stating : Prior to diversion and use of water under this approval, the right holder shall obtain Forest Service authorization necessary to access the point of diversion or place of use or to convey water across federal land.

I read through our backfile and saw your correspondence with Justin in February 2019 issuing a short-term permit for the PTR Water Users Association.

I wanted to include a copy of the authorization for the remainder of the 30-year maximum term of authorization for the license file. Are you able to provide this?

I have attached a copy of your correspondence with Justin and the permit for your reference.
Thank you so much!

Best,
