HOW YOU WILL RECEIVE NOTICES IN THE BEAR RIVER BASIN WATER SYSTEM ADJUDICATION

All documents filed in the Bear River Basin Water System Adjudication, other than notices of claim, are filed with the court. Notices of claim to water rights filed in the Bear River Basin Water System Adjudication are filed with the Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR). Copies of all documents filed in the Bear River Basin Water System Adjudication will not be mailed to all parties (claimants) in the adjudication. Any document filed with the court will be mailed only to those parties who may be directly affected by it.

A monthly docket sheet is prepared by the court, which contains a summary of all documents filed with the court in the previous month and the dates and locations of hearings scheduled for the following three months. The docket sheet will be filed with the district court clerk in each county within the Bear River Basin Water System Adjudication. Copies of a monthly docket sheet may be obtained from any of the offices of IDWR; a small fee may be charged to cover the cost of mailing and/or copying. If you wish to receive an annual subscription of the docket sheet printed each month, you should mark the appropriate place on your notice of claim form. You will be charged a small annual subscription fee by the court to cover the cost of copying and mailing. The docket sheet is also available on the court's web site at:

<http://www.srba.idaho.gov/BRBA20.HTM>

Copies of any document listed on the docket sheet may be obtained from any of the IDWR offices or the court and a small fee may be charged to cover the cost of mailing and/or copying the document.

Copies of all notices of claim filed with IDWR will be available for inspection at all IDWR offices. You may also obtain copies of the notices of claim filed by other claimants, but you may be charged for the cost of copying and mailing. A claimant will not be charged for a copy of his or her own notice of claim, and a person who acquires property with water rights for which a notice of claim was filed will not be charged for a copy of the notice of claim filed by the previous owner.

After the notices of claim have been reviewed, the director will prepare and file a Director's report with the court that will contain the Director's recommendations as to each water right claimed under state law and a copy of each federal reserved water right claimed. A Director's report will be prepared for all claims filed in the Bear River Basin Water System Adjudication. When this report is filed with the court, you will be mailed a notice informing you that the report has been filed. The notice will be sent to the most recent address shown by IDWR's files. Attached to the notice will be a copy of those portions of the report describing the water rights you have claimed. If you do not agree with the way your water right is described, you may file an objection to the report with the court. You can also file an objection if you disagree with the way another claimant's water rights are described, and the notice will tell you where a copy of the full report is available for inspection. The notice will tell you when and where to file your objection.

It is very important that you inform IDWR in writing of any change in your address. This is to make sure that you receive the notices affecting your water rights that are to be mailed by IDWR or the court.

If you are acquiring property with water rights within the boundaries of the Bear River Basin Water System Adjudication in Idaho (either by purchase, gift, inheritance, or other means), it is very important that you inquire of IDWR whether a notice of claim has been filed. If you fail to file a required notice of claim for a water right, that water right may be determined to no longer exist.

If a notice of claim has been filed, it is very important that you file a written notice of change in ownership with IDWR. You may contact IDWR regional offices or the IDWR web site <http://www.idwr.idaho.gov/> for change of ownership forms. The notice of change in ownership form must be accompanied by evidence of the ownership of the property. Again, this is to make sure that you receive the notices affecting your water rights that are to be mailed by IDWR or the court.

The map depicts the place of use for the water use listed above and point(s) of diversion of this right as currently derived from interpretations of the paper records and is used solely for illustrative purposes. Discrepancies between the computer representation and the permanent document file will be resolved in favor of the actual water right documents in the water right file.

Narrative History of Water Right No. 13-7279

Water right from Cub River has been used to irrigate lands both in Idaho and Utah since 1880 when water right 13-26B was established. However, the adjudications of water rights owned by Cub River Irrigation Company were limited to lands in Idaho for jurisdictional reasons. Therefore, the Company's place of use in Utah has never been defined other than in the water right license for water right no. 13-7279 which notes that the service area for Cub River Irrigation Company includes 22,400 acres in Cache County, Utah. In fact, the Company has historically irrigated more land in Utah than in Idaho.

Water right no. 13-26B from Cub River was decreed to 5,560 acres in Idaho, without mentioning the place of use in Utah even though the Company irrigated lands in Utah from the Cub River at that time.

The Company's 1872 water right from Worm Creek (13-222) were decreed on May 21, 1981, In the Matter of the General Determination of the Rights to the Surface and Groundwaters of the Worm Creek Drainage Basin. The decree includes findings in fact acknowledging that Worm Creek is an interstate stream that flows south through Franklin County, Idaho. However, the decree is limited to points of diversion and places of use within the State of Idaho for jurisdictional reasons, even though water from Worm Creek was used in Utah at that time, at least by Cub River Irrigation Company.

The license issued for water right no. 13-2066 identifies only the land irrigated by the Company in Idaho, even though that represented the majority of the total land irrigated by the Company (including its Utah place of use). There was no Bear River Compact at that time, and the Department of Water Resources understandably limited its actions to water use in Idaho. When the license was issued for water right no. 13-7279 in 2013, the license simply states that the place of use is within the service area served by Cub River Irrigation Company in Idaho and Utah. For the first time, a legal description was provided for the service area in Utah, encompassing 22,400 acres. The license states that the water right is limited to the number of acres already authorized under water rights 13-26B, 13-222, and 13-2066, yet those water rights do not define the acres authorized for irrigation in Utah. Thus, there has never been a determination of irrigated acres in Utah.

In connection with the adjudication, Cub River Irrigation Company precisely mapped out its service area and identified all acres actually irrigated within its service area, comprising 10,910 acres in Idaho and 13,746 acres in Utah, for a total of 24,656 total irrigated acres. The decrees issued for water right no. 13-26B authorized the irrigation of originally 1,800 acres, currently 1,530 acres accounting for changes in use, from the Cub River within Idaho. The decree for Worm Creek water right no. 13-222 authorizes the irrigation of 5,560 acres in Idaho. And the license issued for water right no. 13-2066 authorizes the irrigation of 5,620 acres.

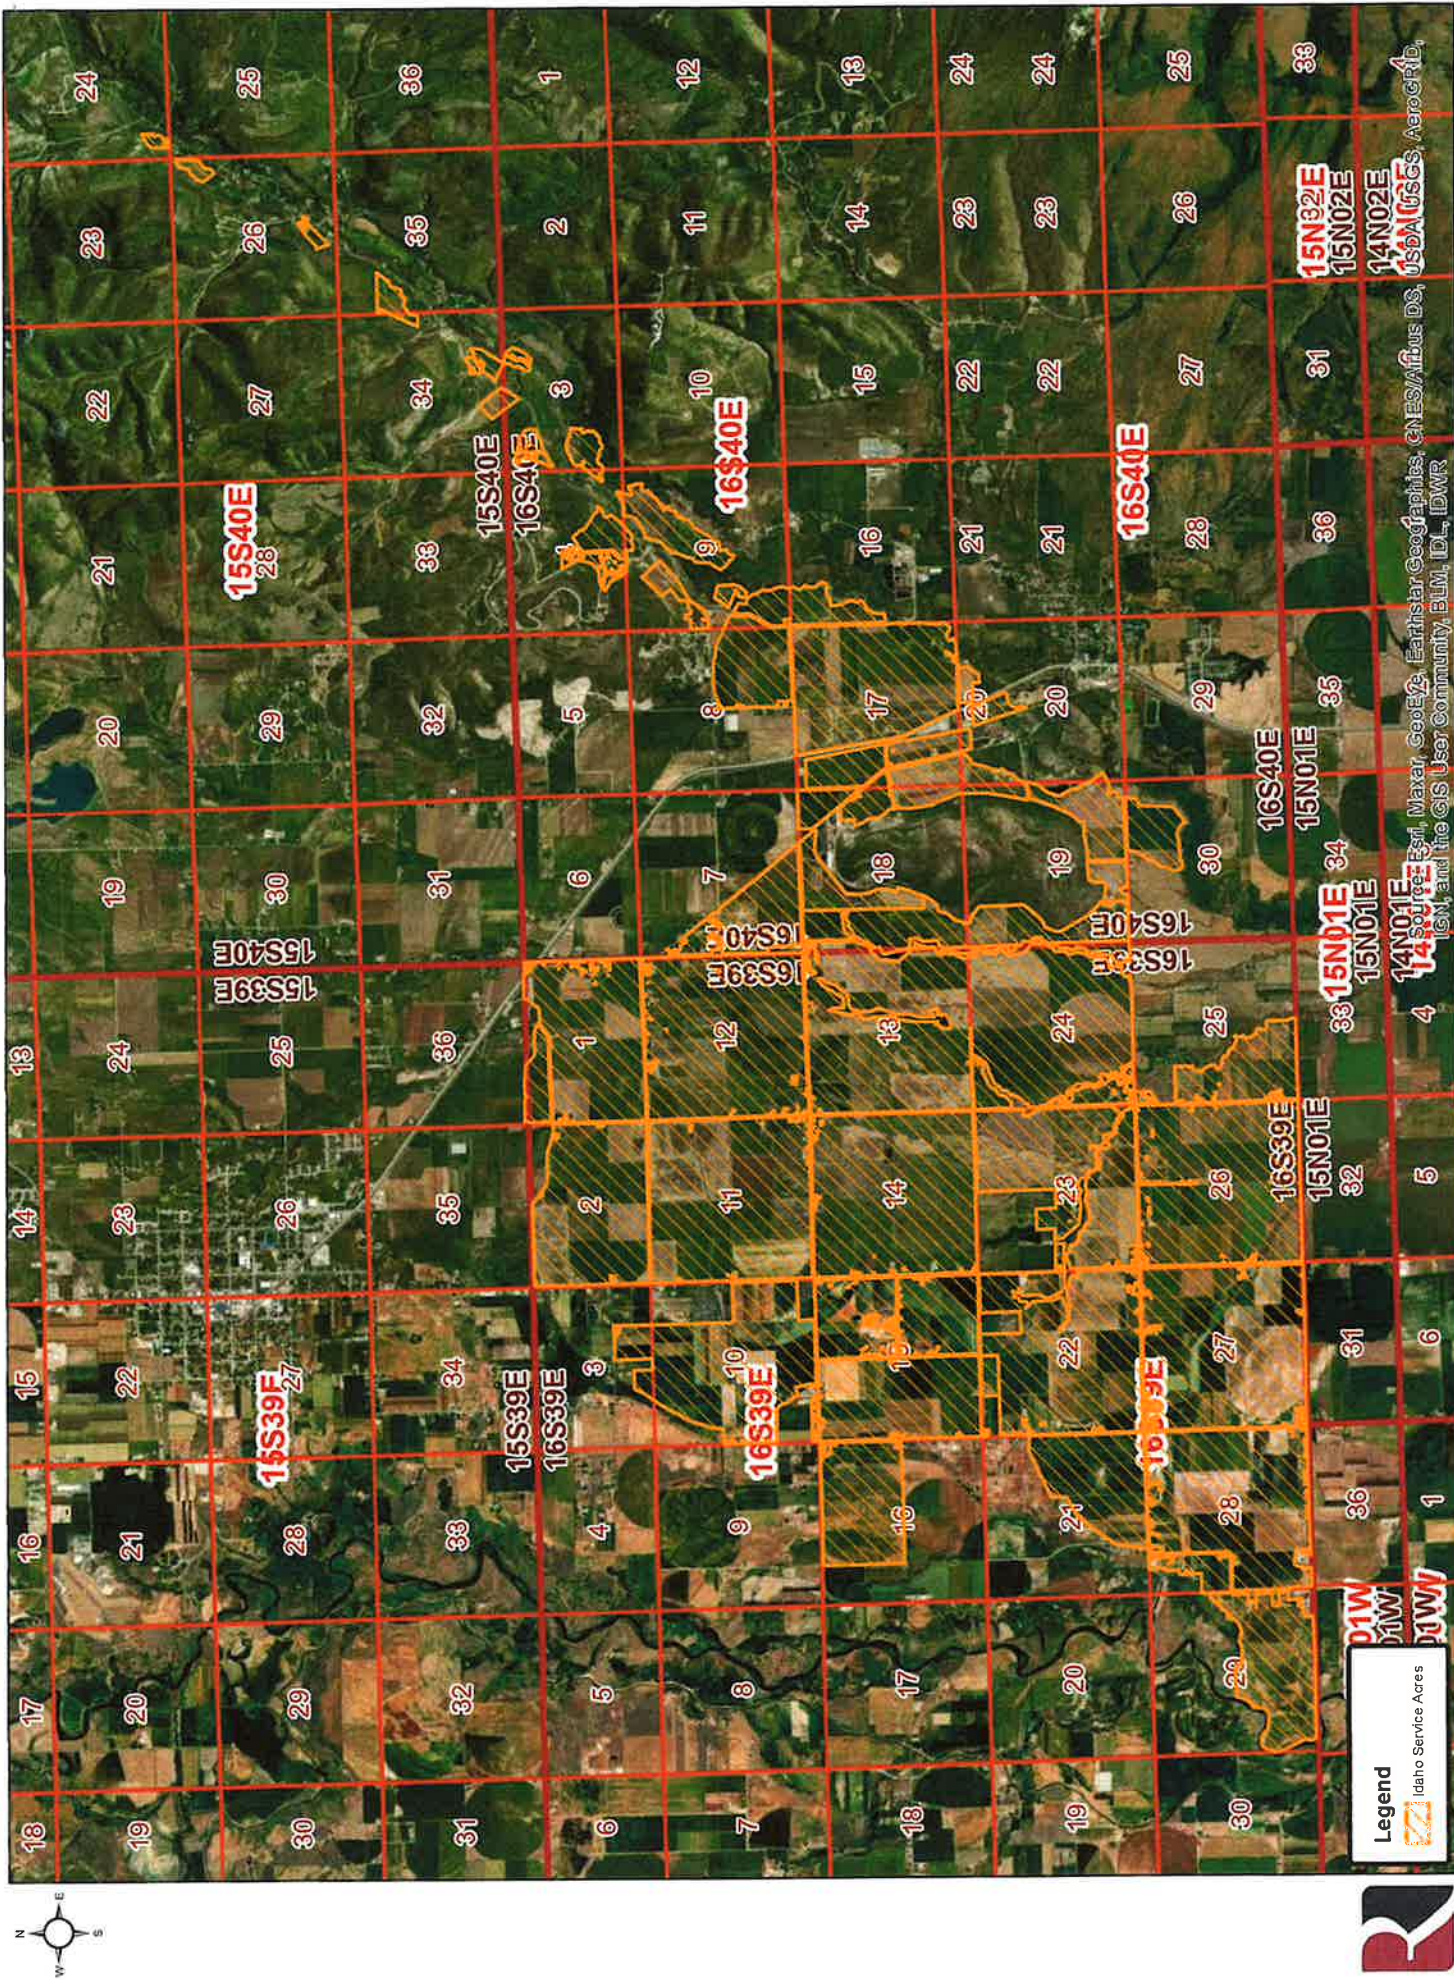

The place of use map for water right 13-26B encompasses 10,419 acres.

The licenses and decrees cited above do not contain combined use conditions. Therefore, they collectively authorize the irrigation in Idaho of 13,370 acres, consisting of 1,530 acres under water right no. 13-26B, 5,560 acres under water right no. 13-222, and 6,280 acres under water right no. 13-2066.
