Here are my answers to your questions:

How often is the place of use irritated? It is irritated at least every couple of weeks. It is dependent upon when my brother has his pivot running which depends on the crop he is growing (i.e, hay vs grain) and when he has the pivot off to harvest the crop.

How many years has it been irrigated? I have owned it since 2001 and it has been irrigated every year that I have owned it. Prior to me owning it my father and/or mother owned it and it was irrigated every year. Prior to that my grandfather owned it and it was irrigated every year.

How is it irrigated? It is irrigated with the mainline that is attached to the mainline for my brothers pivot (which was my pivot before he bought the ~156 acres from me). When we put the pivot in we installed a bubbler to irrigate that corner. Since the leveling of that corner wasn't perfect to irrigate it with the bubbler, about 3 years ago we put a short wheel line on it that connects to the old mainline that is still connected to the mainline for the pivot.

Hopefully this answers your questions. Let me know if you need any clarification.

Sandra,

I'm working on the last couple steps before a decision is made about your Application for Transfer. I just need a little information from you regarding water usage. How often is the place of use irrigated, how many years has it been irrigated for, and how is it irrigated?

Thank you,
