5. Description of diverting works:

Originally the water was ditched from the creek locally known as South Dell Creek to the property. There were dikes in place to flood irrigate the ground. In 2016 I added a reservoir so I could pump and sprinkle the ground. Since then I've piped part of the ditch where it runs across my property and have installed main lines that feeds the sprinkler system I am using. When I changed from flood to sprinkler irrigation I was able to water an additional 26 acres and will file an additional claim for that enlargement. Cattle drink from the reservoir and wherever the water pools from irrigating. I have received a grant to install 3 additional troughs to the system for the stock to drink from.

12. Remarks:

Priority Date Explanation:

The property is what was originally the James Hymas homestead. He proved up on the homestead on this date. To do so he would have had to irrigate the land. This ditch system and ground that I farm would have been part of what Hymas farmed and built to establish his homestead.
