Brian,

Attached you'll find the corrected maps to claim 11-7383. Corrections are made in black lines. Blue lines represent the replacement irrigation main my parents installed in 1996 that we use to irrigate the pasture and alfalfa fields. We continued irrigating when we bought the land in 1990 from the previous owner who also irrigated. My mother began leasing the land in 2007. The lessee irrigates the crop field every year but varies how far north along the northern boundary he irrigates.

- The domestic map was reduced by some pasture area east of the house that was incorrectly included.
- The point of diversion was adjusted to the wellhead actual location on the domestic map (black circle)
- The Northern boundary on the irrigation map was adjusted (black line) to reflect pasture land and crop field that has been irrigated to varying degrees from the time we installed the water main extension in 1993.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Respectfully,

John D. Bomsta
