Good morning Jacob:

The season of use described in the claim is accurate—June 1 to September 30. This water supports livestock grazing during those months on the National Forest System.

The location in the claim was recently field verified location and what has always been in place. The license location was incorrect, and the claim location is accurate.

Do you want to make administrative changes to the license to reflect the season of use and correct POD/POU, or use the information on our claim in the Director's report and make a note that the license has some inaccurate information?

Thanks,

Tyler

Good morning Tyler,

I have been working with Chris on one of your water right claims, and for claim 11-7281 there are a few questions I have. One regarding the season of use and the other is the point of diversion (POD) and point of use (POU) locations.

On the claim, the listed season of use is 06/01 – 09/30. However, the current license issued for WR 11-7281 has the season of use as 01/01 – 12/31. Is the period being claimed reflecting the actual season of use? If not and the license is accurate, I would be happy to assist you in doing an amended claim.

Regarding the POD and POU the license has them located in the SWNW QQ. On the provided claim the legal description as well as the provided GPS coordinate place the POD and POU in the NENW QQ. Is this where the spring and trough have always been? Or is it a new spring and/or trough that was moved since the 1980's?

Sincerely,

Jacob Morris
