2015 Water Report

This has been another interesting year for the Irrigation District. The year started out looking fairly normal then January turned dry and the rest of the winter was well below normal. This spring stayed dry with deliveries starting ahead of normal. at the start of deliveries we only had 80% of our reservoir storage and was losing around 500 AF per day at this rate we would have been out of water by

The thing that saved us somewhat was that we got some beneficial rainfall in mid may which allowed us to shut off deliveries for two weeks and recouping the reservoir storage that we were short at the beginning of the season. The summer stream flow was well below of the 30 year average. We had about 500 acres that were not planted and several of the waterusers only got on cutting of hay.

There was one more pipeline replacing an open ditch for 2 miles this saved about 500 acre feet of water. They are also looking to install another 5-7 miles in the next few years to eliminate most of our high loss laterals. At the present time the district is close near 100% sprinkler irrigated.

We survived fairly well for most of the irrigation season by running a tight system and I don't think that we ever had over 2 cfs of water that was wasted out of the end of the canal system for the season. The reseivior lasted until the middle of august after which we delivered natural flow and ground water to a few farms until the mid of September.

We can only hope that the upcoming year turns around and we can get back to a normal water supply.
