Dear John,

I am writing you concerning the construction of a pond, which I feel, is not in the best interest of the Roseberry Irrigation District.

In the last week of August I noticed a track hoe working on the Ken McPhail property. Upon further investigation I found that they were digging an existing pond deeper. This small pond has always been a catch basin for run off in the spring and then dries up as summer progresses. By digging deeper they had hit surface water which I believe belongs to Roseberry Irrigation District, as this pond is approximately 30 feet from the main irrigation canal. I talked with the Board of Directors on this matter and they had no knowledge of any permits issued for this project. Also, this piece of property has no water rights in the Roseberry District. I would appreciate you following up on this for me.

Sincerely,
Jerry Greenland
