Re: Hoagland Tunnel Weir Design

Dear Frank,

Per your request, I have reviewed plans for the proposed weir at the Hoagland Tunnel prepared by Brockway Engineering for the Hoagland Ditch Company. These plans show sufficient detail and adequate specifications for proper construction and placement of the new weir. The proposed size of weir should be sufficient for the range of flows IDWR estimates are representative of this spring.

This letter should be considered as certification of approval that the proposed measuring device meets or exceeds IDWR standards. If you have further questions, don't hesitate to call.

Sincerely

Steve Burrell, P.E.
